Cites Central agency’s bias while targeting leaders from particular parties

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Cabinet on Thursday withdrew the general consent allowing the CBI to probe cases in the state, citing bias in favour of the Centre to target leaders from certain parties. This move comes amid shrill demands from various quarters, including the BJP, for the CBI to probe the allegedly illegal Mysore Urban Development Authority (MUDA) sites allotment case against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and his family.

This decision by the state cabinet makes Karnataka the latest state to join the list of non-BJP-ruled states — including West Bengal, Kerala and Tamil Nadu — to withdraw the general consent to the CBI.

It also comes two days after the Karnataka High Court gave its nod to Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot’s approval to conduct an investigation into the case after complaints were received by him seeking a probe, and a day after the Special Court to try cases against sitting and former MPs/MLAs ordered the Lokayukta police to investigate the allegations against Siddaramaiah and his family members about the alleged illegal allotment of the sites to the CM’s wife Parvathy BM by MUDA and submit a report to the court within three months. Law Minister HK Patil told reporters after the cabinet meeting on Thursday that they decided to withdraw the general consent for CBI investigations in the state, as there were concerns of the bureau misusing it and not using its powers judiciously. “The notification granting general consent for the CBI to probe criminal cases in Karnataka, under the Delhi Special Police Establishment Act, 1946, has been withdrawn,” Patil said. P4

People blamed the casualties on the lack of crowd management near water bodies. “There was no deployment of the state disaster response team at any of the water bodies in the district,” said Upendra Yadav, father of eight-year-old Ankaj Kumar, a resident of Kusaha in Aurangabad district.

Jaglal Rai, who lost his 14-year-old daughter Rikki Kumari, said his daughter had gone for taking bath in the village pond when tragedy struck. Rai, a resident of Olhanpur village in Saran district, said his daughter was part of a group of women and girls who had gone to the pond for a holy dip.

SC junks Guj govt plea to expunge critical remarks in Bilkis verdict

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday dismissed a review plea filed by the Gujarat government seeking to expunge certain adverse remarks against it while quashing the premature release of the 11 men convicted of gangraping Bilkis Bano and murdering her family members in 2002. A bench of Justices B V Nagarathna and Ujjal Bhuyan also rejected the application for listing review petition in open court. “Having gone through the review petitions… we are satisfied that there is no error apparent on the face of the record,” it said.

The SC had on January 8 quashed the Gujarat government’s decision to grant remission to the 11 convicts. The court said Gujarat “usurped the powers” of the Maharashtra government because the case had been transferred there.

The BBMP multi-level vehicle park at Gandhinagar

Multi-level parking facility may shut over heavy losses

Agency proposed to BBMP of running restaurant in basement of car parking

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike's (BBMP) multi-level parking facility at Gandhinagar, inaugurated under the 'Brand Bengaluru' initiative by Deputy Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar, is facing significant challenges with Prince Royal Solution Pvt Ltd, the agency managing the facility since June 21, expressing its intentions of withdrawing the same due to mounting losses.

Kumar HN, who runs the agency said that he has written at least eight representations to the BBMP Chief Commissioner, appealing to reduce rentals and wave off power bills due to low occupancy rates, which is contrary to BBMP's promises. "We paid Rs 1 crore security deposit after securing the 5-year contract. Every four months, we are supposed to pay Rs 48 lakh as rent. So far, we have incurred a loss of Rs 64 lakh," said Kumar.

The agency highlighted that the BBMP had initially estimated around 80 per cent occupancy at the multi-level parking facility in which 600 four-wheelers and 750 two-wheelers can be accommodated. Additionally, it had also assured that no parking would be permitted within a 500-metre radius of the parking facility, but these promises have fallen flat.

"There is hardly 10 per cent occupancy. To remove unauthorised vehicles parked in the surrounding areas, we have been paying Rs 7,500 daily for towing charges and staff, adding an additional Rs 4.5 lakh in losses. In August alone, we collected Rs 3.38 lakh but ended up paying Rs 56,000 to cover up 18 percent of GST. On the whole, we have incurred a loss of Rs 64 lakh so far, making it impossible for us to pay the salaries of 46 employees," he added.

An official from the agency stressed that, if the Palike reduces rentals and waives off power bills (as BESCOM has threatened to cut off power supply), the facility can be run, else the agency will be forced to close down the business and take legal measures to recover its losses. Meanwhile, in an effort to offset the losses, the agency has proposed to the BBMP of running a restaurant in the basement.

'B'luru investors should bring innovation to North East'

Union Minister Jyotiraditya M Scindia during the North East Investors' Summit in Bengaluru | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

BENGALURU holds the capability of transforming potential into reality, and investors should bring this dynamism to the North East, said Jyotiraditya M Scindia Union Minister of Communications and Development of North Eastern Region. By blending Bengaluru's dynamic entrepreneurial culture with the North East's untapped resources, the region can become India's 'final frontier' for growth, offering vast potential for national and international investors, he said.

Speaking at the North East Global Investor Summit on Thursday, Scindia highlighted how Bengaluru's entrepreneurial spirit and innovation, embedded in its 'DNA', have created global corporations as well as many of India's unicorns. He emphasised that this transformative power should be extended to the North East, which offers immense potential, both in its natural resources and human talent.

Scindia outlined the region's growing significance under the Act East policy. "Under Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the North East is no longer seen as India's last outpost but rather as its first entry point and strategic vantage point," he highlighted.

Scindia emphasised that with significant government investments, including Rs 1.02 lakh crore in the last financial year alone, the North East is witnessing a rapid transformation in infrastructure. He added, "Railway projects worth Rs 50,000 crore have connected almost all states in the region, including Sikkim, for the first time. Additionally, the region's airports have expanded from 9-17 in just 10 years, with more developments underway."

Scindia also highlighted the establishment of technology hubs across the North East, such as IT parks in Assam, Manipur, and Meghalaya, as well as centres of excellence focusing on emerging fields like AI, gaming, virtual reality, and agritech.

Metro Ph-3 land acquisition process kickstarts afresh

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

WITH the land acquisition process for the 44.65-km Phase-3 line of the Metro being abruptly stalled earlier this month, due to the need to incorporate double-decker flyovers along the route, the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) restarted the process again on Wednesday. The preliminary notification to acquire 299 properties for one stretch on the Outer Ring Road Line has been submitted to the Karnataka Industrial Areas Development Board (KIADB).

The Rs 15,611-crore project comprises two elevated corridors - the 32.15-km ORR Line, from JP Nagar IV Phase to Kempapura; and the 12.5-km Magadi Road corridor, from Hosahalli to Kadabgere. The Union Cabinet gave the green signal on August 17.

"We have decided to acquire land required for our network first. We will acquire additional land needed to put in place the double-decker flyovers later. The list to go ahead with the acquisition for the first package of the ORR corridor has been submitted by BMRCL to the KIADB, which is responsible for paying the compensation for acquired property," Channapa Goudar, General Manager, Land Acquistion Cell, BMRCL, told TNIE.

The ORR corridor requires a total of 857 properties, for which we require total land of 1,36,415.93 sqm. Package-1 extends from JP Nagar IV Phase to Mysuru Road. "We require a total of 43,372.5 sqm of land for it, which will cover 327 properties. The process has been set in motion for it presently," he said. Package-2 covers Mysuru Road to Kanteevera Studio, for which 254 properties covering 42,065.54 sqm of land are required, and package-3 runs from Kanteevara Studio to Kempapura, requiring 224 properties covering 50,977.86 sqm."For package-2, we have begun a joint survey of the land to be acquired. In the case of package-3, we plan to issue the preliminary notification for acquisition under 28(1) of the Land Acquisition Act, next week. Land acquisition is yet to begin for the Magadi Road corridor. The line has a deadline of 2028, and is expected to carry 9.12 lakh passengers by 2051.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

27th September: Yesterday I wrote about how astrology talks about who we can become rather than who we are. There are many ways to create the future, one of which is to visit a Navagraha shrine. Some astrologers say that the very act of undertaking a ritual act helps us to refocus and improve our lives.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
This is very much a time to behave in accord with your true nature, and not necessarily let everyone else know what you are thinking. However, in financial discussions, you must take the right people into your confidence. And, after the last few days, that might not be easy!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Sometimes it's in your interests to refuse to be pushed. It is fortunate indeed that you didn't agree to a final settlement some time ago, because what is now on offer could well be the genuine article. And the last thing you want to do is turn down a golden opportunity.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
By all means off-load some of your family responsibilities, if only because now other people must shoulder their fair share of the burden. You need more time by yourself to pursue your own private interests. But time, at the moment, is a commodity in short supply.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Hopefully you should now be able to establish considerably more control over career and cash matters. You may even be prepared to concede that a recent struggle was not such a bad thing at all. You have to face the truth, but not at the cost of your own happiness.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Even when life is going well you must make sure that you aren't getting out of your depth. If you are already stretched to the limit, do not put yourself out or try to defend those who have only themselves to blame for their current rather sticky predicaments.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Both your emotional needs and long-term financial arrangements are coming under scrutiny. Differences over spending priorities may be a cause of friction with partners or colleagues. On the other hand, if you stick to romantic encounters you could have a splendid time.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It may seem inconceivable that you were ever distraught over an emotional or partnership problem. Now you may switch your attention to more immediate matters, like how to pay for your current plans - and how to persuade people you live with that you know what you're talking about.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
All your instincts and hunches urge you to keep major plans to a minimum, including travel proposals. Do not expect colleagues, friends or relatives to turn up trumps on your behalf. Only you can ultimately secure the goals that are now so important.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may have come to feel that partners or close associates have only themselves to blame for a dilemma. However, that is no reason at all to be too proud to refuse to offer a helping hand. After all, there are people out there who have done you a good turn in the past.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It seems to be some time since you were truly encouraged to prove just how independent and strong-willed you can be. However, now you must realise that being assertive is not the same as being self-interested. Above all, this is a moment for a complete and totally fresh start in every area of your life.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Current planetary activity denotes that certain childish and unenlightened individuals have been unable or unwilling to appreciate your true gifts. Ignore such insults and carry on with what you know to be right. Your grasp of the underlying truth is one of your gifts at the moment.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Consider settling your differences and accept an offer which allows you greater freedom to practise your skills. It is not in your nature to take on a role which denies you the chance to be an individual. However, it is now in your interests to work for a much better world.

MAHALAKSHMI MURDER: CHILLING DETAILS IN KILLER'S DIARY, SAID SHE WANTED TO KILL HIM

Mukti Ranjan Ray had confessed to his mother before hanging self

ASISH MEHTA @ Bhubaneswar

THE prime accused of the sensational Mahalakshmi murder case had reportedly confessed to his crime before his mother, hours before allegedly taking his own life near his house at Dhusuri in Bhadrak district, Odisha, on Wednesday.

Investigation revealed that accused Mukti Ranjan Ray, aged around 30 years, returned to his village on Tuesday evening after almost two years.

He told his mother that he had killed the 29-year-old woman, and broke down sobbing. Ray stayed at his house overnight and left on his father's scooter in the wee hours of Wednesday. He went to an isolated place and reportedly hanged himself from a tree with a rope.

Chilling details of the murder have also surfaced after police recovered a notebook of Ray, in which the accused has reportedly confessed to his crime and mentioned the reasons behind it.

Ray said he liked Mahalakshmi, but the latter took advantage of him and exploited him financially. He even claimed that the woman wanted to kill him, for which he murdered her. The accused's mother also corroborated her son's claims and said he was disturbed, as Mahalakshmi was exploiting him. The woman had even taken his gold chain and a ring.

Police sources said Ray wrote disturbing details of the crime in both Odia and English. His writing in English was imprecise and police collected most of the crucial information from the sentences he had jotted down in Odia.

The accused killed Mahalakshmi on September 3 and wrote the note the same day. He planned to end his life immediately, after committing the crime, but did not get an opportunity. Ray even confessed to have committed the crime before his cousin, with whom he stayed for 10-12 days in Berhampur, after fleeing Bengaluru.

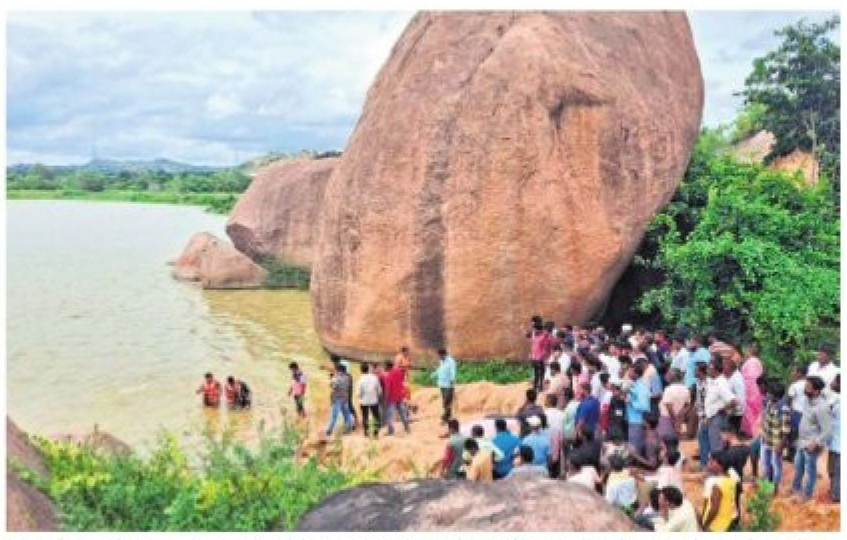
"On the day of the incident, the woman reportedly threatened Ray at knife-point and said she would kill him, as well as his younger brother, who also stays in Bengaluru. After a heated exchange, he throttled her and then cut her body into 59 pieces by using a kitchen knife," the cousin claimed.

Speaking to the media on Wednesday, the cousin said Ray contacted him over telephone before arriving in Berhampur. "During his stay with me, he revealed about the crime. Ray also told me that he had spent Rs 7-8 lakh on Mahalakshmi, who was blackmailing him. A few months ago, the woman had also accused Ray of kidnapping her, following which the locals had handed him over to the police."

Bhadrak SP Varun Guntupalli said Bengaluru City Police will collect the required documents seized from Ray's bag as part of their investigation. They will be provided with certified copies of the notebook, in which he had confessed to his crime.

VYALIKAVAL POLICE TO FILE ABATED CHARGESHEET

BENGALURU: The Vyalikaval police investigating the murder of Mahalakshmi (29) will file an abated chargesheet with the jurisdictional court, as the prime accused, Mukti Ranjan Ray, took his own life before he was arrested. An abated chargesheet is a criminal proceeding that has been discontinued due to the death of the accused. Ray hanged himself near his house in Dishuri police station limits in Bhadrak district of Odisha. His body was found hanging from a tree on Wednesday morning. Before filing the abated chargesheet, the Bengaluru City Police will gather all evidence related to the case. The police will also have to file a petition before the court in Odisha to take possession of Ray's mobile phone and other material evidence, and send them to the Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) here. If the police find anybody else's involvement in Ray's escape, they will also be arrested. The statement of the accused's brother under Section 164 of the CrPC, along with statements of other family members and suspects will be mentioned in the abated chargesheet.



People gather at the tank where Haseena and her daughters drowned on Thursday

Woman kills kids, ends life

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tumakuru

UNABLE to bear the alleged harassment at the hands of her husband, a woman drowned herself, after killing her two minor daughters, also by drowning them in a tank at Siddapura in Madhugiri taluk on Thursday. Haseena (29) pushed Albiya (4) and Afifa (9) into the tank, before jumping in herself. Seeing the girls' school bags lying on the banks, locals informed the police. Firefighters fished out the bodies, which were sent for post-mortem.

In a police complaint, Haseena's father, Mujeeb Sab, alleged that his son-in-law Shafeek Ahmed had been harassing his daughter for two years, for not giving birth to a boy. On Wednesday night too, Ahmed allegedly confronted Haseena over the same issue, following which she took the extreme step.

HC junks case against child rights panel head for social media post

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court quashed criminal proceedings initiated against Priyank Kanoongo, chairperson of the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR), based on his tweet over Darul Uloom Sayideeya Yatheemkhana, an unregistered orphanage housing 200 children and functioning in violation of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015.

Justice Nagaprasanna passed the order while allowing the petition filed by Kanoongo, questioning the crime registered by Ashraf Khan with the Devarajeevanahalli police.

After visiting the orphanage, the petitioner submitted a report to the state government, stating that the Yateemkhana (institution providing care and shelter to destitute orphans) was not fulfilling the infrastructural requirement. There were five rooms of approximately 100sqft each and about 150 children were staying in the rooms; 16 children slept on four bunk beds and 150 children slept in two big halls used for prayers. None of the children were sent to school, no recreational facilities were available in the orphanage and the conditions were in violation of the provisions of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, and it was also negligence on the part of the state government, the report said.

The court noted that the petitioner had tweeted that "they are children who are living a medieval Taliban life". This can at best be a metaphor used by the petitioner to describe their living conditions. It had never been tweeted that Taliban-like terrorist activities are taking place in the madrasa. It is not a madrasa but an orphanage.

High Court reserves verdict on Prajwal's anticipatory bail plea

BENGALURU: The Karnataka High Court on Thursday reserved the judgment on the anticipatory bail petition filed by former Hassan MP Prajwal Revanna in a rape case registered against him, by a victim with the cybercrime police station of the CID. Justice M Nagaprasanna reserved the order after hearing the arguments of the counsel of Prajwal and the Special Public Prosecutor. During the argument, the SPP argued that the forensic lab report shows that the voice samples of the accused matched with the voice in the clippings. The senior counsel for the petitioner argued that the said voice was recovered from the mobile phone of the former driver of the accused and not from the mobile phone of the accused, as the same was not seized.

On August 28, the woman is said to have contacted him on WhatsApp, seeking sexual favours and then started threatening him with the intention of extorting money and defame him.

STATE VS GUV: ALL INFO SOUGHT BY RAJ BHAVAN TO PASS CABINET SCRUTINY

- CHIEF SECY, SECRETARIES TOLD TO SEND REPLY AS PER DECISION TAKEN
- BJP SLAMS DECISION, SAYS GOVT TRYING TO CONTROL GUV OFFICE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE cabinet on Thursday decided that any query or information sought from the state government by the governor's office will be first discussed in the cabinet, which will decide on the response to be sent to the Raj Bhavan. A direction has been issued to the chief secretary and secretaries in this regard, said Law Minister HK Patil.

Speaking to mediapersons after a cabinet meeting on Thursday, the minister pointed out that Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot has been relentlessly seeking information on various topics and wants the state government to send the responses immediately. "It seems like he loses patience. We discussed this, and decided that henceforth, any information sought from the chief secretary or secretaries by the governor has to be placed before the cabinet and get it approved. We have directed the chief secretary to reply as per the cabinet decision," he said.

Asked about the governor's earlier queries, Patil said this decision will be applicable for anything that has not been sent as of Thursday.

Patil said the governor had questioned the leak of the Lokayukta report, and claimed that this happened from the governor's office itself. "All these papers were at the governor's office for the past nine months, that too illegally. But he has been blaming the leak on the state government," he said.

It may be noted that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had alleged that the governor had been seeking information on petty issues. Home Minister G Parameshwara accused Gehlot of intervening in governance and seeking reports on a daily basis. "There is no obligation to answer all his (governor's) questions. Whatever needs to be answered, we will answer," he had stated.

Meanwhile, BJP leaders slammed the state government for taking the decision in the cabinet. Leader of Opposition R Ashoka said the governor has been seeking information and questioning the government on various scams. "But with this cabinet decision, the government seems to be trying to control the Raj Bhavan. It is acting like Hitler," he said.

ASHOKA DARES CM TO DISSOLVE ASSEMBLY

Bengaluru: Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka on Thursday dared Chief Minister Siddaramaiah to dissolve the Assembly and prove that he enjoys the support of the people. On Thursday, BJP staged a protest at Vidhana Soudha, demanding the CM's resignation to ensure a free and impartial probe into the Mysore Urban Development Authority (MUDA) site allotment case against him. The Special Court in Bengaluru directed Lokayukta police to probe the case and submit a report within three months. Ashoka said if Siddaramaiah decides to dissolve the state assembly, 135 of 136 Congress MLAs will not support him, and he will be left with no option but to resign. "The High Court and Special Court orders have come. FIR will be registered against him. What is he waiting for?" the BJP leader asked. Opposition leader in the Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy said the Congress high command has become weak. "Corruption is rampant in the state and Congress has converted Karnataka into its ATM," he said. BJP MLC CT Ravi said Siddaramaiah has denotified 880 acres of land in Bengaluru to benefit realtors. During the protest, BJP leaders raised slogans against the CM and state government, and tried to lay siege to the Vidhana Soudha. ENS

NEEDLE OF SUSPICION POINTS TOWARDS CM: SPL COURT JUDGE

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

"SERIOUS allegations are levelled against Siddaramaiah, who is holding a high position in the democratic set-up of our country. When the needle of suspicion is pointed at a person who is holding a high position in society, it is the cardinal principle of law that the same is required to be investigated," said the Special Court for trial of cases against sitting and former MPs/MLAs.

Judge Santhosh Gajanan Bhat of the Special Court made these observations in the MUDA case order passed on Wednesday, and was available on Thursday.

The connectivity with which allegations are levelled against him (Siddaramaiah) and the relevant date on which he has been in power, points the needle of suspicion towards him, the judge said, ordering a probe against the CM and others, including his wife, by Lokayukta police. The probe will be under provisions of IPC, Prevention of Corruption Act, Prohibition of Benami Property Transactions Act and Karnataka Land Grabbing Prohibition Act, on the complaint filed by Snehamayi Krishna.

Giving a bird's eye view of the path the case has taken from 1994 to 2023, the court observed that Siddaramaiah was holding a high constitutional position at crucial phases of development in the case, which would once again point the needle of suspicion at him.

Making clear that the observations are only made on the existence of prima facie material and should not be construed as passing observation on merits, the court, however, said the needle of suspicion can only be cleared through proper and fair investigation.

Quoting Mundaka Upanishad, "Truth alone triumphs; not falsehood. Through truth, the divine path is spread out by which the sages, whose desires have been completely fulfilled, reach to where is that supreme treasure of Truth", the judge added that the truth is required to be deciphered from falsehood. Also, the high court in its September 24 judgment had clearly held that necessary investigation is required to be conducted.

By placing reliance on materials placed before this court and also relying on observations made by the high court, it is a fit and proper case for ordering investigation, the judge said.

The judge also quoted the Doctrine of Trivarga, extracted from the book 'Raja Dharma with Lessons on Raja Neeti' written by Justice Rama Jois, "Gandhiji's idea of an ideal polity was Ramarajya. Today, we have responsible governments run by elected representatives. If the rulers do not observe Dharma, it will become a Ravanarajya. We have to make a choice between Ramarajya and Ravanarajya."

First set your house in order, CM tells PM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah has hit back at Prime Minister Narendra Modi again for raising the alleged internal bickering in the Karnataka Congress.

"The PM has recklessly claimed that there is infighting within the Karnataka Congress. It seems like he has misread recent media reports and confused the names of the parties, thinking it was Congress when it was actually the BJP. I kindly request him to issue a clarification and correct this misunderstanding," he said in a letter released to the media on Thursday.

"Just as communalism runs in the BJP's blood, so does internal conflict. These days, not a day goes by without Karnataka BJP leaders attacking each other. Every day, BJP leaders entertain the public with a soap opera of accusations, blame games and insults," he stated.

The CM advised Modi to stop pointing fingers at the Congress and instead focus on resolving the conflicts within the BJP.

CBI is biased, agency misused in many cases: Patil

HK PATIL added that permission from now on will be given only on a case-by-case basis for the Central agency to probe cases in the state.

Meanwhile, state BJP president BY Vijayendra said that although the court had asked the Lokayukta police to probe the MUDA site allotment case, the CM should order for the investigation to be handed over to the CBI for "free and impartial probe".

Asked if the cabinet's decision to withdraw the general consent to probe cases in the state was taken to shield the CM, as there were demands for the MUDA site allotment case to be handed over to the CBI, Patil said the special court had already ordered a Lokayukta probe and that the question (of handing the case over to the CBI) did not arise.

"We have made the decision. We are expressing our concerns that the CBI is misused in many cases," he said, pointing out that in the last two years, the Central agency had shown its bias, even during the elections when only the office-bearers of one particular party were probed.

"Their behaviour shows they are biased and that is the reason for our decision," he said, further claiming that the agencies used by the Centre were all biased. Consolidating the point, Patil said that even in cases that the state government gave consent to the CBI or those that the agency had taken up, many of them saw no chargesheets being filed, besides refusing to probe a number of mining cases which the state government had asked for.

Responding to a question whether the government had done this keeping in mind the demand for a CBI probe into the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribe Development Corporation fund misappropriation case by the BJP, Patil said it had nothing to do with it as the matter was in court.

He, however, said that if an order came from the court that the probe has to be handed over to the CBI, then the court order would matter and not the cabinet's decision.

Koliwad wants CM to quit, Cong says not happening

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

WHILE all legislators have come out in support of Siddaramaiah continuing as chief minister despite the high court upholding the approval given by the governor to conduct an investigation against him in the MUDA case, senior leader K B Koliwad has raised the first voice of dissent. "Siddaramaiah should resign from his post to avoid embarrassment to the party," he suggested on Thursday.

The Congress leadership, however, was unfazed by Koliwad's statement, as he is not a legislator. Leaders, including Deputy CM D K Shivakumar, reiterated that Siddaramaiah will continue as CM.

"There is no question of me resigning. Did Prime Minister Narendra Modi, when he was the Gujarat CM, resign in the Godhra riots case? Has Union Minister H D Kumaraswamy, who is out on bail, resigned? I too will not resign," Siddaramaiah hit back at BJP leaders demanding his resignation.

Seventy-nine-year-old Koliwad, speaking to a private TV channel, lauded Siddaramaiah as a good leader, but suggested that he should resign in the interests of the party.

"Let Siddaramaiah resign in the party's interest, no matter how untainted he is. Let him become CM again after coming out clean after the investigation. The 136 MLAs of the party are with CM Siddaramaiah," he said. "Assembly elections are going on in different states and the BJP is trying to embarrass the Congress. Siddaramaiah is causing embarrassment to the party."

Responding to Koliwad's statement, Shivakumar said, "I am the president of the Congress in the state. I am saying that there is no reason for the chief minister to resign. This is all part of a BJP-JDS conspiracy."

Senior Congress leader R V Deshpande said Siddaramaiah will remain the CM for five years as the cabinet, high command and legislators are on his side.

Cooperation Minister K N Rajanna, a staunch loyalist of Siddaramaiah, hit out at Koliwad, saying that the latter is "old enough to lose his memory".

Leader of Opposition R Ashoka said there is a possibility of revolt in the Congress as many leaders have already thrown their hat in the ring to become the CM and have been visiting their Delhi bosses.

BJP leader Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, pointing fingers at his bete noire Shivakumar, said it was the DCM who hatched a plot to remove Siddaramaiah.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah greets AICC general secretary (organisation) KC Venugopal at a function in Nilambur, Kerala, on Wednesday | EXPRESS

Kerala the new meeting spot for Cong leaders

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

AFTER Delhi, Kerala seems to have become the war room of the grand old party to chalk out strategies to safeguard the Siddaramaiah government in Karnataka. Its proximity to Karnataka and as home state of AICC general secretary (organisation) KC Venugopal, Rahul Gandhi's Man Friday, makes Kerala a convenient meeting ground for leaders from Karnataka who frequent it both confidentially and publicly.

The state has been chosen as part of the strategy as it is easy to avoid the glare of media and opposition parties. At Venugopal's place, Congress leaders feel free to discuss issues and pass on messages to the party high command, especially Rahul Gandhi, a leader observed.

A similar meeting was held when Siddaramaiah visited Nilambur on Wednesday, where he presented the Aryadan Mohammed Memorial award to Venugopal, according to sources.

Apart from Siddaramaiah, CM aspirants DyCM DK Shivakumar and Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara had also visited Kerala and held discussions with Venugopal confidentially, another source informed. This was in case Siddaramaiah had to step down any time in the near future.

Kharge arrives

After campaigning in Jammu & Kashmir and Haryana for the assembly elections, AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge arrived in Bengaluru on Thursday. He is likely to discuss the court order for inquiry with the CM, Shivakumar and other senior leaders. "Since most of the things and strategy with regard to Karnataka politics were discussed with KC Venugopal, Kharge may not discuss the issue again thoroughly. The leader's visit may be a casual one," observed a senior Congress leader.

Activist wants to file FIR against CM, but SP goes 'missing'

ENS@ Mysuru

IN a dramatic turn of events in the ongoing Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) scam, activist Snehamayi Krishna, one of the petitioners against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, approached the Lokayukta Special Police office on Thursday to lodge an FIR against the CM. However, his visit quickly spiralled into a controversy when the Lokayukta Superintendent of Police TJ Udesh remained unavailable throughout the day.

As the SP did not answer his calls or messages, Krishna waited at the Lokayukta office until 3 pm. Later, he filed a 'missing' complaint at Devaraja police station, accusing the CM's supporters of possibly "hiding" or "abducting" the SP to hinder the investigation.

When the Station House Officer (SHO) of Devaraja police station refused to accept his complaint, Snehamayi sought help from the Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) of Devaraja division. Eventually, he managed to get an acknowledgment for his complaint.

2.37L acres of forest land encroached, most under 3 acres: Data

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

TILL September 1, a whopping 2,37,079.24 acres of forest land in the state have been encroached, and 1,25,306 cases registered by the forest department, revealed data from the state government.

Interestingly, the total extent of encroachment is the highest for under three acres of land. As per the data, accessed by The New Indian Express, 1,07,477 cases were for encroachment of under three acres of forest land, totalling 1,39,055.99 acres.

The data also showed that in the last 10 years, the forest department has been able to recover 28,103 acres of land. The highest recovery of 8,009 acres was in 2016-17. In 2023-24, the government has been able to recover 1,900 acres of forest land.

The state government recently took a decision not to clear encroachments and displace those who illegally occupied less than three acres of forest land, citing the Forest Rights Act and right to livelihood. But sources in the forest department said the decision was taken not to evict them as the number of cases is high and the land extent is large. "There is no sufficient land or resources to handle these cases. Also, the number of people involved in these cases is very high," the source said.

The data also showed that 157 cases were regarding encroachment of over 30 acres of forest land, totalling 10720.71 acres. There were 1,079 cases for land encroachment between 10-30 acres, spread across 17,653.3 acres, 16,593 cases between 3-10 acres, totalling 69,627.48 acres.

The largest extent of encroachment is in Shivamogga forest circle at 83,801.18 acres with 52,924 cases. In Chickmagalur circle, 31,459.66 acres of forest land has been encroached and 8,576 cases filed. This is followed by Canara circle where 29,881.72 acres have been encroached and 21,655 cases filed.

A senior forest official said, "Land recovery and identification of encroachment are continuous processes. The data keeps changing. The department is now working on geotagging all its properties and satellite images are also being used to find encroachments and detect changes in land use. Clearing land encroachment is not easy as people approach courts and legal battles go on for long."

SC GRANTS BAIL TO EX-TN MIN IN MONEY LAUNDERING CASE

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday granted bail with stringent conditions to former Tamil Nadu minister V Senthil Balaji in a money laundering case after 15 months, noting that there is no possibility of the completion of trial in the near future.

The former electricity minister may get back his portfolios in the impending Cabinet reshuffle hinted by Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin to take place soon. A three-judge bench of Justices Abhay S Oka, Ahsanuddin Amanullah, and Augustine George Masih, which had reserved the verdict on August 12 in a bail petition filed by Balaji, pronounced the judgment on Thursday.

The top court said the continued detention of Balaji, who was arrested by the Directorate of Enforcement last year, will amount to infringement of his fundamental rights under Article 21 of the Constitution.

Noting that there are more than 2,000 accused and over 600 witnesses in the case, the bench said that inordinate delay in the conclusion of the trial and the higher threshold for the grant of bail cannot go together. "Therefore, even in ideal conditions, the possibility of the trial of scheduled offences concluding even within a reasonable time of three to four years appears to be completely ruled out," it said. The judges said stringent provisions regarding the grant of bail in Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) cannot become a tool which can be used to incarcerate the accused without trial for an unreasonably long time. The apex court, however, noted that there is also prima facie material to show a deposit of cash amount of Rs.1.34 crore in Balaji's bank account. "At this stage, the contention of the appellant regarding the deposit of remuneration received as MLA and agriculture income cannot be accepted in the absence of any prima facie evidence to show the existence of the appellant's cash income as MLA and the appellant's agriculture income. Therefore, at this stage, it will be very difficult to hold that there is no prima facie case against the appellant in the complaint under Section 44 (1)(b) of the PMLA and material relied upon therein," the bench said.

Balaji was arrested on June 14 last year by the ED in connection with a money laundering case linked to an alleged cash-for-jobs scam during his tenure as the transport minister in the AIADMK government from 2011-16.

Alleging that Pinarayi is in the clutches of a coterie, he quipped, "The captain is already handicapped." Holding the CPM workers close to his chest and singling out Pinarayi, Anvar said the issues faced by party workers in Kerala have never been the concern of the party bosses. Throughout the two-hour-long press conference at Nilambur, Anvar was careful to pose himself as the champion of the party cadre, who according to him, were mercilessly abandoned by Pinarayi to protect a group of people personally close to him. Insinuating that Pinarayi might have asked ADGP Ajithkumar to disrupt Thrissur Pooram to benefit the BJP, Anvar asked the media to find out the truth behind the incident. Stop working like political party, Gadkari tells IRC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UNION Minister of Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari has criticised the Indian Road Congress (IRC) — the apex body of highway engineers in India — stating that it is functioning like a political party instead of being an independent and impartial body. He offered to provide grants, both from the Union and state governments and land in Delhi to IRC, to set up a permanent management and research institution to make Indian roads better.

Gadkari was speaking at an international seminar on Advances in Bridge Management, organised by the Indian Roads Congress in association with the World Road Association (PIARC) and Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH) with the support from the Karnataka government held in Bengaluru on Thursday.

"We need an independent, impartial and quality conscious approach," the Union Minister elaborated.

Giving an example of Worli Sea Link in Mumbai, Gadkari said, "Even after 26 years, the expansion joints are in perfect condition. However, I do not see such perfection in other projects. Like how a spark neglected can burn a house, engineers and contractors are making compromises."

PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi greets Union Minister Nitin Gadkari in Bengaluru on Thursday | VINOD KUMAR T

Stating that there were many complaints about the poor quality roads, Gadkari stressed that quality is the priority and he will not compromise on it. "For some reason which I do not know, lot of compromises are made. I will create a world record by suspending people and blacklist contractors," he said.

He opined that he doesn't understand why engineers take so much time to take decisions about projects. Time has come to make bridge construction mandatory in pre-cast and that white topped roads are the solutions to heavy rain problems, he said, advising IRC to adopt new technology and build better roads in India.

Karnataka PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi said that recent rains and floods have created a problem in road infrastructure, especially in the Western Ghats where bridges have collapsed.

A team of Karnataka Forest Department officials, lead by Forest, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre, will visit Vijayawada to meet Andhra Pradesh DyCM Pawan Kalyan on Friday to discuss sending trained camp elephants from Karnataka to the neighbouring state and also train mahouts there. Senior forest officials, however, said no decision has been taken on handing over the elephants.

"We are going to Andhra to sign an MoU on training mahouts to train camp elephants and in capturing wild elephants," an official said. He said multiple discussions on improving and strengthening wildlife corridors, reducing conflict and other issues will be held. During the visit, agreements will be signed between Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka on elephant capture operations, taming and knowledge exchange on forest resources and conservation initiatives. "We have also decided that henceforth we will not hand over any of our camp elephants unless our criterion are met. We cannot be giving our trained elephants and mahouts to other states. We will also send elephants in groups as they are social animals and share a bond. We do not want our elephants to suffer depression, anxiety and other issues," the official added.

Another Karnataka forest official said that there is one elephant camp in Vijayawada that houses three elephants. "The camp area is also small. They also do not have sufficient trained mahouts. Our department mahouts and staffers will help in this regard," the official added.

MEASURES NEEDED TO CHECK MALICIOUS MISINFO ON SOCIAL MEDIA

THE Karnataka High Court is the latest high office to be affected by the mischief of selective news portrayal on social media. A judge last week allegedly referred to a minority-dominated area in Bengaluru to be “in Pakistan”, which caused a furore. While only the edited clip went viral, the context it was said in was not clear, although the judge did express regret for it later. It led to advocates demanding that live streaming of court proceedings be stopped, as clips from these were being used to malign the judiciary out of context. In an interim order on Tuesday, the high court restrained various social media platforms from sharing live streams of court proceedings and ordered with immediate effect the deletion of all such uploaded videos. The court said such behaviour created wrong opinions about the judiciary, affecting the trust the public reposes in this formidable pillar of democracy.

It is not just the judiciary that is vulnerable to mischief in social media, which has emerged as a potent tool in politics, social groups, as well as in interpersonal relationships. This is posing a dilemma as social media is also considered an effective conduit for expressing the freedom of speech. To combat misinformation, last year the Union government initiated amendments to rule 3(1)(b)(v) of the Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code Amendment to allow the setting up of fact-checking units to identify and take down fake/misleading content about the government. This week, the Bombay High Court cited it as a violation of the rights to equality and freedom of expression, and struck down the rule.

The regulation of social media platforms has emerged as a huge challenge in the face of rapid expansion and evolution of the digital landscape. The challenge is aggravated in a sensitive, diverse country like India where the spark of misinformation can ignite the tinderbox of violent communal incidents. Social media is the most preferred tool of miscreants to create widespread mischief and discord in society. The Union and state governments, irrespective of the ruling parties and their ideologies, need to put their heads together to prevent the spread of malice and hatred in society in the name of freedom of speech and expression.

EMULATE KERALA RULES ON AMBULANCE SERVICES

PROVIDING a much-needed relief, the Kerala government has introduced standardised rates for ambulance services across the state. A uniform fare system will be of great help to patients and their carers who are often at the mercy of ambulance owners during medical emergencies. Fares have been fixed for five categories of ambulances starting with a minimum of 20 km for two-way trips and the base tariff ranges from ₹600 to ₹2,500. The government has insisted that the new tariff be displayed inside the vehicle. Ambulance owners’ associations have also agreed to the state government’s plea to transport accident victims to the nearest hospital free of cost and offer a 2 percent discount for all cancer patients and those aged 12 and younger. It has also been announced that below poverty line or BPL cardholders will receive a 20 percent discount on ventilator-equipped ambulances.

To prevent the misuse of ambulances, the state government has introduced ID cards and uniforms of navy-blue shirts and black trousers for ambulance drivers. It has also been decided to keep a log book inside the vehicle to track the vehicle’s movement, besides doing random checks by enforcement officers. The department will also introduce a system for the public to track the nearest available ambulance and has announced a toll-free number to register complaints. These regulations acquire added importance as there have been several untoward instances. While it is important to acknowledge the emergency nature of ambulance services and their right of way, it is equally important to see that the privileges are not misused.

Ambulances are frontline responders, racing against time to save lives. The first 60 minutes following an accident, called the ‘golden hour’, are crucial. Chances of victims’ survival are said to be highest when they are brought to the hospital and treated within this time. But various studies show that nearly 80 percent of patients in India do not receive timely medical attention. India’s ambulance services are far beneath the international benchmarks, including having one ambulance per 50,000 people. It is highly recommended that there be a proper system in place for these life-saving vehicles all over the country. Proper regulation and fair pricing of ambulance services will be of great help to people in one of their most vulnerable moments.

QUICK TAKE

SOLIDARITY WITH PALESTINE

A baffling tussle between the signifier and the signified has unfolded across India in recent months. At least seven state governments—from both sides of the political divide—have charged 51 citizens for showing solidarity with Palestine. One of the most recent cases was of six young men in Karnataka’s Chikkamagalaru who were detained for displaying the Palestinian flag. India is an enduring friend of Palestine. Our government has continued to support Palestine’s full UN membership, a two-state solution, and has recently condemned the loss of life in Gaza at least six times at the UN. Why should we penalise our citizens standing for self-determination in a friendly country?

The worry about the new Lankan govt’s leftist tilt may be overblown. It’s likely to be guided by those offering a friendly hand out of its economic morass

WHO’S AFRAID OF MARXISTS NEXT DOOR?

M K BHADRAKUMAR

Former diplomat

ON Sunday, the Indian High Commissioner Santosh Jha called on Sri Lanka’s president-elect Anura Kumara Dissanayake to convey greetings from Prime Minister Narendra Modi no sooner than the election result emerged. Dissanayake was yet to be sworn in. Another country to congratulate Dissanayake real-time was the US. These were, no doubt, exceptional gestures. Chinese President Xi Jinping’s message came a day later, after Dissanayake was sworn in on Monday, as per protocols.

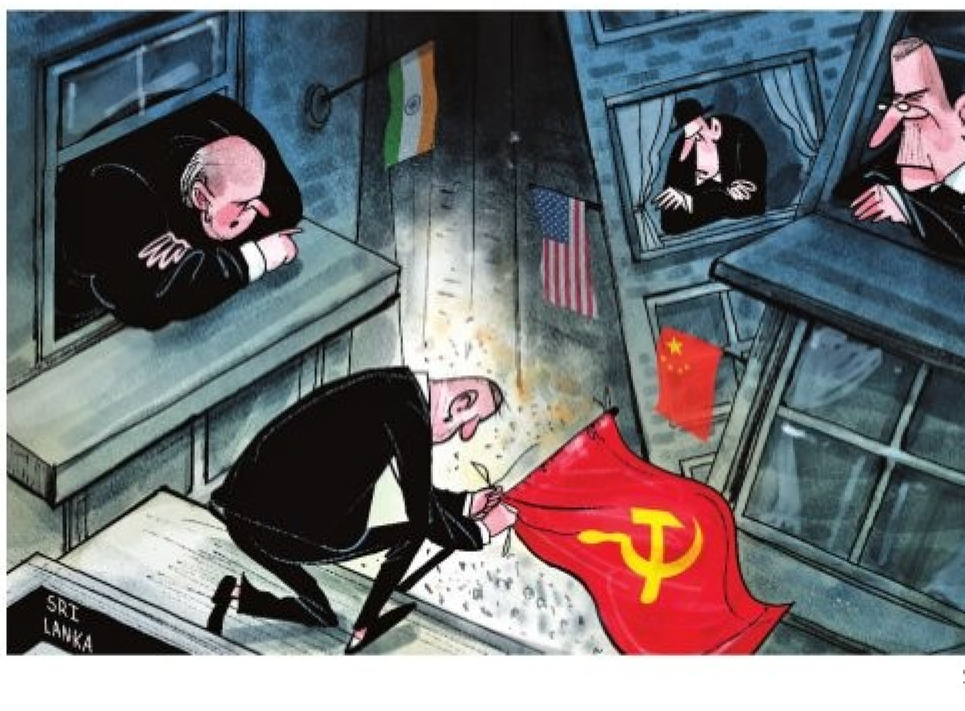
Apparently, neither New Delhi nor Washington was taken by surprise at Dissanayake’s victory. In a post on X, Jha called Sri Lanka with élan as India’s “civilisational twin”. Greetings also poured in from the Indian opposition, including Rahul Gandhi and the CPI(M). The latter hailed Dissanayake’s election victory as a historic event.

Running such a fine comb through another country’s democratic election process is most certainly unwarranted, but it has become necessary because there is such a lot of angst being expressed that Dissanayake is ‘pro-China’, that the National People’s Power coalition he leads is a Marxist alliance, that his party Janatha Vimukthi Peramuna has an ‘anti-Indian’ pedigree, and so on—none of which is wholly incorrect, of course. But simplistic notions betray a lack of awareness about the nuanced politics of Sri Lanka.

Dissanayake’s victory calls attention to the grim reality that Sri Lanka’s deep economic crisis continues to devastate lives. Much of the optimism generated by the youth-led movement known as the Aragalaya (‘struggle’ in Sinhala) two years ago that toppled the ancient regime of the Rajapaksas—a decadent political and social system characterised by absolutism, deep-rooted corruption and venality, and state terrorism—has dissipated.

Analogous to what has been happening in India, the Sri Lankan elections too were dominated by issues of caste, race and religion. But Sunday’s poll was primarily about the economy. The dull roar of a seething disenchantment with traditional politics provided its choir. One may call it an event of compelling authenticity, not only for Sri Lanka but India as well.

Sri Lanka’s economy is unlikely to get better anytime soon. Dissanayake, a political veteran, has openly spoken about the daunting challenge facing him to meet people’s expectations of ‘change’ as they have realised that Aragalaya didn’t fundamentally usher in the transformation to progressive democracy they had hoped for, but kept turning in old grooves.



SOURAV ROY

Sri Lanka’s crisis only took a new direction aggravated by the IMF conditionality. Dissanayake has been critical of the harshness of the IMF’s austerity loan conditions—the removal of social subsidies, in particular. He promised to ‘renegotiate’ the package of obligatory policy reforms, but seems open to the IMF route as such.

The geopolitical implications of IMF loans are often not fully understood. “Neither a borrower nor a lender be,” Shakespeare’s old blowhard Polonius advised his son Laertes who was going off to college, for “borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry”—the management of one’s home.

All South Asian countries except India and Bhutan are indebted to the IMF. Pakistan is by far the biggest culprit, followed by Bangladesh and Sri Lanka. Interestingly, the US Secretary of State Antony Blinken’s message to Dissanayake touched on strengthening bilateral ties and “promoting economic growth, security, and deeper cooperation”.

Xi Jinping’s effusive message was also substantive. It recalled “mutually beneficial cooperation” and spoke of readiness to “enhance political mutual trust, facilitate more fruitful high-quality Belt and Road cooperation and make steady and long-term progress of China-Sri Lanka strategic cooperative partnership featuring sincere mutual assistance and everlasting friendship”.

In retrospect, the outgoing Sri Lankan president Ranil Wickremesinghe accommodated Indian investment and security considerations while advocating for economic reforms rooted in neoliberalism that allowed for smoother relations with the West than when the Rajapaksas were in power. However, the JVP’s ideological leanings align with China’s interests, although the party appears less tethered to Marxist tenets than in the past and realises the need to deal with all major powers to stabilise the economy. If the CIA’s hidden hand had indeed ensured Brazilian president Lula da Silva’s victory in the October 2022 election over Jair Bolsonaro, it only goes to show that Americans are no longer afraid of Marxists next-door.

Anyway, given his country’s dire economic and debt situation, Dissanayake will have to balance major powers like India, China and the US. He may have to contend with the China factor. All the same, the incoming government may greenlight the multi-billion-dollar project by the Adani Group for the expansion of the Colombo West International Terminal.

That, at least, is the meaning of Dissanayake’s acceptance of the invitation by the Modi government to visit New Delhi in April when he didn’t hold any official position. The discernible toning down of Dissanayake’s India rhetoric needs to be put in perspective.

Many cross-currents exist in Sri Lanka’s domestic politics. Dissanayake’s working class background—”son of a farmer and a homemaker, he worked as a tutor, sold cigarettes on trains and hawked vegetables in his village market before committing to politics”, as The New York Times portrayed him—is tempered by the steady evolution of the JVP that he helped lead to power as part of a broader coalition today, ready for bourgeois democracy.

It is drastically different from when he joined it as a violent insurgent communist movement in the early 1980s—bringing in academics and activists, putting female voices in its leadership and mobilising the youth as voters.

Historically, the JVP has been a staunchly Sinhala Buddhist party, which was supportive of the brutal war against the LTTE. It backed without hesitation the government’s rejection of calls for investigation into the war crimes. The JVP opposed the Indian Peace Keeping Force’s deployment. And its ethno-nationalist politics repudiated the 13th Amendment prescribed by India for devolution of powers to Tamil-dominated regions. But then, the Modi government has also given up prioritising the unresolved Sri Lankan Tamil question in its engagement with the interlocutors in power in Colombo.

WHY CASA DEPOSITS AREN’T AS CHEAP AS ASSUMED TO BE

ATANU K DAS

Director, Institute of Insurance and Risk Management, Hyderabad

TRADITIONALLY, current and savings bank deposits or CASA is considered to be low-cost deposits in Indian banks. So these deposits—in absolute as well as percentage terms—continue to receive overriding emphasis in policy for the sake of operational efficiency. But recent liquidity concerns in the face of loan growth outpacing deposit growth have added another dimension to the ‘Chase CASA’ strategy. Regulators and the government also have rightly pressed for higher augmentation of overall deposits, specifically the CASA component.

Here we try to present a kind of antithesis on whether CASA truly represents lowest-cost deposits or there is more to it than commonly perceived. True, a current account offers zero interest to depositors while savings deposits offer somewhere in the range of 2.7 to 3.2 percent, at least in public sector banks. In terms of the mathematics of interest outgo, CASA apparently represents lowest-cost deposits, since fixed deposits or FDs offer much higher rates of interest on various tenors and special schemes.

But deposit cost may not be all about interest outgo alone. While terming CASA as the lowest cost option, one missed a few links, as a result of which their cost is probably often understated. There are other associated costs as well that are probably not explicitly factored in. As a result, the impact of operating cost of CASA is often found missing. To add a substantive dimension over and above the normative one, it is essential to illustrate a few important cost drivers in CASA economics.

Transaction cost

One can probably attach the metaphor of ‘fill it, shut it and forget it’—an old advertising tagline—with fixed deposits, as a large portion of such deposits hardly involve recurring transactions except in events such as frequent shifting through pre-closure or granting loans on them. As such, with the exception of some stationary and machine cost, there are no major costs for banks involved in FDs other than the interest cost.

In contrast, CASA deposits involve a multitude of transactions day in and day out in terms of withdrawal, remittance, statements of accounts, mandates, linkage to gateways and so on. All these transactions entail significant costs that are not accounted for while banks calculate CASA cost. If added, the actual outgo on CASA could be much higher. In Reserve Bank parlance, intermediation cost is calculated by deflating operating expenses with assets, and this cost ranges between 1.5 to 2 percent. Empirical studies probably could throw up a much bigger number.

कैश नहीं है
Cash NOT AV

PTI

Policy makers emphasise the importance of current and savings account or CASA deposits because they are supposed to be low-cost. That may be an imprecise assumption. Deposit cost is not just about the interest outgo. One must also look at an activity-based costing method to get a clearer picture

Opportunity cost of frills

Large segments of CASA clients, especially in the HNI and corporate segments, are offered frills like free remittance facilities, full/partial waiver of service charges and discount on interest rates on loans like women clients, education loans, doctor loans, etc. These frills entail certain sacrifice and opportunity loss, which need to be factored into CASA costs. Only then can the real cost of CASA be arrived at. The idea here is not to dissuade CASA, but to have a realistic evaluation of its cost.

Client relationship cost

Conventionally, customer complaints are largely confined to those having operative accounts. Resolving and addressing such complaints also involve a cost in terms of manpower deployment, portal management, legal expenses and likely punitive aspects, along with moral hazards and reputational costs. Hence, this calls for an indicative cost component in the overall costing matrix.

The ABC method

Going by the above, it is probably time CASA’s true cost is evaluated in a more realistic manner to dispel some historical notions. First and foremost, this calls for a quick revisit of the activity-based costing or ABC principle and appropriate pricing of liabilities and assets. ABC is a lesser known concept and pricing these days seems to be more a function of industry trend and peer bank offerings.

Second, disintermediation forces can be dealt with by a new approach from banks, regulators and the government. It merits a quick revisit of the taxation aspects under interest income, among others, for retail depositors and pensioners. Pension accounts are said to be accounting for more than 50 percent of overall CASA.

Tax on tax seems to have hit hard segments in the middle income and salaried class. Tenets of the Laffer curve—which depicts the relationship between tax rates and revenues—can be best leveraged through broad-based tax compliance by rationalising the rates on depositors’ hard-earned money.

Lastly, in order to align credit and deposit growth, public sector banks deserve a better deal, especially in mopping up government deposits. It is well known that PSBs have played a pioneering role in various flagship programmes of the government, including game-changing schemes such as SVAnidhi, Vishwakarma, Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana and so on. It’s time an index is designed to rank the lead banks in such programmes and allot them central and state government funds as deposits according to their ranks.

While striving hard to pace up overall deposits, banks would also need to take on board a demystified CASA concept and go for appropriate policy reorientation.

Suing authorities

The editorial’s suggestion for the public to sue the negligent authorities causing disasters is pressing. Often, a suspension slapped upon the perpetrators are withdrawn in a short period of time and they are reinstated. Court verdicts are, at times, swiftly violated. The public should rise from their slumber and fight this evil.

The editorial raises a valid argument for enforcing accountability on civic authorities. India asks citizens to leave Lebanon as tension mounts

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

AMID escalating tensions between Israel and Lebanon, the Indian embassy in Lebanon has issued an advisory for Indian nationals to leave the country immediately.

"As a reiteration of an earlier advisory issued on August 1, and in view of the recent developments and escalations in the region, Indian nationals are strongly advised against travelling to Lebanon until further notice," reads the advisory from Beirut.

All Indians in Lebanon have been advised to leave the country. "Those who remain for any reason are advised to exercise extreme caution, restrict their movements and remain in contact with the Indian Embassy in Beirut," the advisory said.

There are about 4,000 Indians living in Lebanon, most of them employed as workers in construction companies and in the farming sector.

Meanwhile, the US and its allies on Wednesday have requested a 21-day ceasefire between Israel and Lebanon for fear of an escalation of the conflict. This request was made hours after Israeli military asked its troops to prepare for a ground offensive.

The US feels a temporary ceasefire could create space for a longer-term resolution of the conflict. However, it is for Israel and Hezbollah to accept this ceasefire proposal.

PM Modi met Palestine President Mahmoud Abbas in New York a few days back and expressed concern over the conflict. The conflict between Israel and Hezbollah is a spillover of the conflict between Gaza and Israel which began with Hamas attacking parts of Israel on October 7 last year.

According to latest reports, over 43,000 people have died due to this conflict, which includes 116 journalists.

Meanwhile, Left parties issued a joint statement on Thursday demanding an immediate ceasefire in Gaza and informing that they will observe October 7, which marks the completion of a year of Gaza conflict, as a day to demand an end to the war. The statement was issued by five parties — the Communist Party of India (Marxist), the Communist Party of India, the Communist Party of India (Marxist-Leninist) Liberation, the All India Forward Bloc and the Revolutionary Socialist Party.

Lawmakers slam second instance of BAPS temple desecration in California

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

A second Hindu temple has been vandalised in the US within a span of 10 day. A BAPS Swaminarayan temple in the Sacramento area of California was vandalised and anti-Hindu messages were written as graffiti on the temple wall.

"This type of hate against Hindu Americans and vandalism is appalling and morally wrong. The US Department of Justice must investigate these hate crimes and those responsible must be held fully accountable under the law," said US Congressmen Ro Khanna on Wednesday.

Less than 10 days ago, a BAPS temple was vandalised in New York on September 17.

"Less than 10 days after the desecration of the BAPS Mandir in New York, our Mandir in the Sacramento, CA area, was desecrated last night with anti-Hindu statement: 'Hindus go back!' We stand united against hate with prayers for peace," BAPS said. The Indian community had gathered for offering prayers following the incident.

Meanwhile, the Consulate General of India in New York condemned the vandalism and termed it unacceptable. The police have initiated an investigation and have also reported that water lines in the property were cut during the incident.

Another Congressman, Ami Bera condemned the incident. "There is no place for religious bigotry and hatred in Sacramento. All of us must stand against intolerance and ensure everyone in our community must be respected," said Bera.

Headquartered in Gujarat, BAPS has more than 100 temples and centres in North America. Last year, it opened the Akshardham temple in New Jersey, the largest Hindu temple outside India.

BAPS is a non-political organisation and has its support base across the political and ideological spectrum.

Ex-warden gets death for raping 21 children

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

A special POCSO court at Yupia in Arunachal Pradesh on Thursday awarded death sentence to the former hostel warden of a residential school for sexually assaulting 21 children, including 15 girls. Two other accused persons were sentenced to 20 years of rigorous imprisonment.

The crime was committed at a government residential school at Karo village in Monigong of Shi Yomi district between 2019 and 2022. The prime accused, Yumken Bagra, was the warden of the hostel at Karo Government Residential School in Shi-Yomi district, where he sexually assaulted 21 children, including 15 girls aged between 6 and 15 years, between 2019 and 2022. Co-accused Marbom Ngomdir was a Hindi teacher while Singtun Yorpen was former headmaster of the school.

"The accused warden forced the children to watch pornographic movies and repeatedly subjected them to sexual assault. The medical reports of most of the victims corroborate the fact that they were sexually assaulted as marks of violence were noticed on their private parts," the court said.

The incident came to light after two sisters complained to their parents about it. Bagra was arrested but he obtained bail. Following this, the Gauhati High Court took suo motu action and cancelled the bail.

Domestic Violence Act caters to women of all religions: SC

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court has said that the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005, is a civil code that is applicable to every woman in India irrespective of her religious affiliation or social background.

A bench of Justice BV Nagarathna and Justice N Kotiswar Singh said the 2005 legislation was applicable to all women for more effective protection of their rights guaranteed under the Constitution.

"The Act is a piece of civil code which is applicable to every woman in India irrespective of her religious affiliation and/or social background for a more effective protection of her rights guaranteed under the Constitution and in order to protect women victims of domestic violence occurring in a domestic relationship," the bench said recently.

The top court delivered the verdict on an appeal filed by a woman challenging an order of the Karnataka High Court in a matter related to the grant of maintenance and compensation.

"In fact, the prayers sought for by the respondent are contrary to the spirit of sub-section (2) of Section 25 of the Act. While making such a prayer, the respondent could not have sought in substance for setting aside of the original order of February 23, 2015 passed seeking refund of the maintenance amount, which was paid to the appellant pursuant to the said order," the SC observed allowing the wife's appeal.

The SC held that alteration or modification or revocation of an order passed under Section 12 of the DV Act can be sought through Section 25(2) only on the basis of change of circumstances which took place after the passing of the order.

The woman had filed a petition under Section 12 of the DV Act which was allowed by a magistrate in February 2015 granting ₹12,000 as monthly maintenance and ₹1 lakh compensation to her.

In 2020, the husband filed an application under Section 25(2) of the DV Act seeking revocation or modification of the order owing to change in circumstance.

Centre asks states to take strict measures to control spread of mpox infection

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Tuesday issued fresh advisory to states and Union Territories and asked them to isolate suspected cases of mpox, previously known as monkeypox, and implement strict infection prevention and control measures.

The advisory was issued after India reported the first case of the clade Ib strain of mpox infection, making it the third non-African country to do so.

Clade 1 is the fast-spreading and severe viral strain that has been declared a global public health emergency by the World Health Organisation (WHO).

In the advisory, Union health secretary Apurva Chandra asked the states to send samples from skin lesions of patients with suspected symptoms to the designated labs immediately.

Those who test positive will have their samples sent to Indian Council of Medical Research-National Institute of Virology in Pune for genome-sequencing to determine the clade, the advisory said.

Cases so far

India has reported two mpox cases. The first case was of a 26-year-old resident of Haryana's Hisar, who had tested positive last month for the West African Clade 2 strain, The second case was of a 38-year-old man, who had recently travelled from the UAE to Kerala. His test came positive for clade 1b strain. Clade 1 is more virulent and transmissible.

He said that robust diagnostic testing capabilities are already available, with 36 ICMR-supported labs across the country and three commercial PCR kits validated by ICMR and approved by Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation.

States were directed to identify isolation facilities in hospitals for suspected and confirmed cases, equipped with logistics and trained staff.

The advisory asked states and UTs to continue undertaking appropriate activities to make communities aware of the disease, its modes of spread, and the need for timely reporting and preventive measures.

Mountaineers scale new Arunachal peak, name it after 6th Dalai Lama

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

AT a time when the Chinese has been renaming places along the Line of Actual Control, India on Wednesday named a mountain peak in the name of Dalai Lama, the religious head of 60 lakh Tibetan Buddhists.

However, the move was to "pay tribute to Dalai Lama Rigzen Tsangyang Gyatso's timeless wisdom and his profound contributions to the Monpa community and beyond," according to National Institute of Mountaineering and Allied Sports (NIMAS), whose team scaled the previously unclimbed and unnamed mountain peak.

In a remarkable mountaineering feat, the NIMAS team successfully scaled the 20,942 feet high peak in Gorichen range of Himalayas in Arunachal Pradesh, in the Tawang-West Kameng region. Monpas live on both sides of the LAC in the area.

"The expedition to conquer 'Tsangyang Gyatso Peak' was one of the most technically challenging," NIMAS said.

NIMAS team climbs the Tsangyang Gyatso Peak | EXPRESS

The preparations for the expedition took around 45 days with the actual climb duration of 15 days. The team of 15 mountaineers was led by India's ace mountaineer Colonel Ranveer Singh Jamwal. While seven team members assisted with administrative support, a total of eight members summitted the peak.

After overcoming immense challenges including steep ice walls, treacherous crevasses, and a 2 km glacier, and unpredictable weather, the team has immortalised the momentous feat by naming the peak 'Tsangyang Gyatso Peak'.

His Holiness Rigzen Tsangyang Gyatso, the Dalai Lama, took birth in an indigenous Monpa family of Ugyenling village in Tawang district of Arunachal Pradesh in 1682. He was recognised and enthroned in Potala palace of Tibet as the 6th Dalai Lama.

Incidentally, China claims approximately 90,000 square kilometre of Indian territory in Arunachal Pradesh. Also, China is in occupation of 38,000 square kilometre of Indian territory in Ladakh, which has a majority of Buddhist population.

Come '26, 'sound walls' on bullet train route

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE high-speed rail corridor, being developed between Mumbai and Ahmedabad for running India's first bullet train at a speed of 260-300 kmph, is getting ready to mitigate noise impact on residential colonies located along the tracks, officials said.

The Railways is installing advanced 'noise barriers', also called 'sound walls', along the bullet train route on a mission mode to reduce noise levels when the bullet trains will start running by 2026, a senior railway official said.

"These measures are designed to ensure that the introduction of high-speed bullet trains does not disrupt the peace of communities living in proximity. The move reflects a commitment of the Indian Railways to balance modern transportation advancements with the well-being of local population. Bullet trains produce high noise when it runs in full speed. The 'noise barriers' will reduce it to a great extent," he said.

According to figures shared by the Western Railway on Thursday, more than 175,000 noise barriers have been installed so far on the Mumbai-Ahmedabad bullet train viaduct in Gujarat.

"For every 1 km of stretch, 2,000 noise barriers are placed. And, so far noise barriers have been installed on 87.5 km," an official said, adding that both sides of Mumbai-Ahmedabad high-speed rail corridor viaduct will have noise barriers.

Inspired by Japanese Shinkansen technology, these barriers consist of 2-metre high and 1-metre wide concrete panels positioned along both sides of the viaduct, the official said.

The noise barriers are strategically designed to reflect and disperse aerodynamic noise generated by the train, as well as noise from the lower part of the train, particularly from wheels. Importantly, they are engineered not to obstruct the scenic views enjoyed by passengers during their journey, said an official of National High Speed Rail Corridor Limited.

"Segments of the viaduct passing through residential and urban areas will feature taller noise barriers, reaching up to 3 metres in height. These enhanced barriers include an additional 1-metre layer made of translucent polycarbonate, ensuring effective noise reduction without compromising visibility," the official said.

Of the total 508 km Mumbai-Ahmedabad high-speed rail alignment, more than 465 km is elevated on viaducts. Railways is considering running bullet trains made of Shinkansen E5 technology. The first train will be brought from Japan.

The high-speed rail operating at 320 kmph will traverse between Mumbai and Ahmedabad in just about two hours. It will cover 155.76 km in Maharashtra, 4.3 km in Dadra and Nagar Haveli and 348.04 km in Gujarat, with 12 stations en route. The project is likely to be completed by 2026-27.

- Questions Rahul Gandhi how he can restore statehood

Shah says only Modi can restore statehood to J&K

> I want to tell Omar that whatever your wishes be, we will bury terrorism deep into the ground. And none has the power to bring terrorism back to Jammu and Kashmir

Pakistan intention

Amit Shah, who is leading BJP's poll campaign in J&K, said NC and PDP want to release stone pelters and terrorists. "If they (NC, Congress and PDP) win, it will be victory of Pakistan's intentions," Shah said.

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

HOME Minister Amit Shah and UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath addressed poll rallies in Jammu on Thursday where Shah said J&K will definitely get statehood, but only "Modi can restore it" and promised to make J&K-terror free if voted to power. The UP CM asserted that if BJP came to power, PoK would become a part of J&K and the Indian Union.

"If voted to power, the BJP promises to make J&K terror-free. This is an important election and will decide the fate of J&K. If in this election, they (referring to NC, Congress and PDP) win, it will be victory of Pakistan's intentions and if BJP wins, it will be a win for the country," Shah said while addressing a rally in Chenani, Jammu.

On Rahul Gandhi's assertion that Congress will restore statehood to J&K, Home Minister said, "When I removed Article 370, I promised in Parliament that after elections, statehood would be restored as soon as possible. Whatever we have said we will fulfill it. PM Modi has also said in both Kashmir and Jammu rallies that statehood will be restored".

Questioning Rahul how he would restore statehood, Shah said, "The statehood can be restored by Parliament and there is Modi raj there".

"J&K will definitely get statehood but only Modi can give it," he asserted. Accusing NC, Congress and PDP of trying to bring back terrorism to J&K, Shah said, "I want to tell Omar that whatever your wishes be, we will bury terrorism deep into the ground. And none has the power to bring terrorism back to J&K."

Shah, who is leading BJP's poll campaign in J&K, said they (NC, PDP) want to release stone pelters and terrorists. "I want to make it clear to Omar that releasing anybody is not your job. It is the job of courts. We have invoked such laws that nobody now dares to throw stones."

Meanwhile, Yogi Adityanath while addressing an election rally in Jammu's Vijaypur said PoK would join J&K and Indian Union if the BJP came to power in J&K.

- Cong targets BJP on caste census and unemployment

Rahul: Storm coming, Cong will form govt in Haryana

> There is not a single SC or OBC person in the management of 250 business firms in the country. That's why we support caste census. If PM does it or not, I will get it passed in same House
>
> Rahul Gandhi, LoP

Tactical move

By raking up caste census, unemployment, the Congress is looking at 20% of SC votes and joblessness among the youth. He chose to hold a rally in Karnal, which is home turf of ex-CM ML Khattar

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

RECOUNTING his conversations with a Haryana youth who migrated to the US via "donkey route" and sharing his experiences, the leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi rapped BJP over unemployment in the state, saying the Haryana government has destroyed the employment system in the state.

Addressing his first election rally at Assandh in Karnal, Rahul raised the issue of caste census and also accused the BJP of dividing the people and pitting them against each other. "We want to know how many SCs, tribals and backwards are there in the country and how many poor belong to the general category. There was not a single SC or OBC person in the management of 250 big business firms in the country. Ninety people (secretaries) run the government of whom only three are SCs while the community constitutes 15% of the country's population,'' he said. "This is the truth. That is why we said the caste census should be conducted at the national level. I have said before, whether Narendra Modi does it or not, I will get it passed in the same House."

"Congress is going to sweep the Haryana elections. A storm is coming and we will form the government," he said. Talking about his recent visit to the US, Rahul said he met some youths from Haryana who went there in search of a better future because they were unable to get job opportunities in their state. "Why are the youth of Haryana going to the US?" he asked.

"When I visited Dallas in the US, I saw 15-20 people sleeping in one room. I asked them how they reached America," said Rahul. "Then I came to know about their ordeal of travelling through many countries to reach the US. They were looted by the mafia on their way to the US and even saw their brothers dying,'' said Rahul.

He was told by one of the youths that it required at least Rs 35 lakh to reach the US which they either borrowed on high interest or got it by selling their farmland.

"The Haryana government has destroyed the state," he alleged as he lashed out at the BJP over unemployment.

SP faces wrath in failing to provide CCTV footage

The Juvenile Justice Board of Jehanabad has imposed a fine of ₹10,000 on a 2018-batch IPS officer presently serving as Superintendent of Police. SP Arvind Pratap Singh faced the board's wrath for his failure to provide CCTV footage in connection with a case lodged at Okri police station under Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act even after two months of the request sent to his office. The Board has mandated that the fine be deposited into the district legal services authority's victim compensation fund by this month. Upon non-compliance, the amount ill be withdrawn from SP's salary.

Potential rift in JD(U) after Chaudhary remark?

Bihar's longest serving chief minister Nitish Kumar is still most enigmatic. He surprises people by his 'unbelievable' political move from time to time. Days after Janata Dal (United) leader Ashok Chaudhary received flak within the party over his cryptic social media post, Nitish, who is also national president, appointed Chaudhary as national general secretary of the party. Chaudhary, who is rural works department minister in Nitish-led NDA government, is a prominent Dalit face of JD(U). The Opposition leaders claimed that it was a 'trailer of the upcoming rift within JD(U)'.

Assault on competitive exam aspirants in Bengal

West Bengal came under sharp attack from leaders of Bihar after a video showing two youths from Bihar being assaulted by a group of men claiming to be from the police in West Bengal's Siliguri went viral on social media. Two union ministers—Chirag Paswan and Giriraj Singh—expressed their strong displeasure over the incident and asked whether it was a crime to appear for an exam in Bengal. The youths from Bihar, who had gone to take part in physical exam for Staff Selection Commission recruitment, were made to apologise and do sit-ups and one of them was thrown against the wall by attackers, who claimed they forged their domicile certificates.

3 Maoists killed after 5-day-long ops in C'garh

EJAZ KAISER @Raipur

IN a major success, the security forces after five days of toiling operation neutralised three high-ranking Maoist leaders in Paradi forests of Abujhmad, in Narayanpur district, about 400 km south of Raipur.

The operation, which began on September 22, was carried out under anti-Maoist campaign "Maad Bachao" (save Maad). The Abujhmaad in south Chhattisgarh's edgy Narayanpur district is an unknowable (Abujh) hilly terrain (Maad) and seen as one of the worst-affected areas hit by Maoist violence.

According to the Bastar police, the three killed were identified as Rupesh of Dandakaranya Special Zonal Committee (DKSZC) who carried a reward of ₹25 lakh. Besides him, the two others included Jagdish of South Bastar Divisional Committee member (DVCM) and woman Maoist Sarita alias Basanti of Maoist's company number 10, had rewards against them of ₹16 lakh and ₹8 lakh respectively. Rupesh had criminal records in over 66 cases, including the audacious 2009 Madanwada attack (Rajnandgaon), in which 29 soldiers were martyred. Jagdish had 43 cases registered against him.

Gujarat Cong chief slams CM's silence in rape-murder case

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

'Death sentence'

Over 500 Congress workers, led by state party chief Shaktisinh Gohil, held a rally in Ahmedabad, demanding death sentence for the accused principal. Photographs of the accused at events organised by the RSS and VHP, also with a ex-BJP minister went viral on Wednesday.

THE Gujarat Congress held a protest on Thursday against chief minister Bhupendra Patel's silence over the murder of a six-year-old girl in Dahod by her school principal after she resisted his rape attempt.

More than 500 Congress workers, led by state party president Shaktisinh Gohil, held a rally in Ahmedabad, demanding death sentence for the accused principal.

Gohil accused the state government of remaining silent due to the accused's RSS affiliation. Photographs of the accused at events organised by the RSS and VHP as well as with a former BJP minister went viral on Wednesday.

"The accused principal, who calls himself a social reformer, has been trained in an RSS camp and follows the RSS ideology. Yet, neither the Prime Minister nor the Chief Minister has even tweeted about this horrific incident. The Chief Minister tweeted in various languages about the West Bengal rape case, but not a single word about Dahod rape case," the Congress leader said. "Every time such incidents happen, the deputy home minister merely says, 'No one will be spared'. Such a tragedy is unimaginable in Gujarat. We demand that the trial should be swift, and the accused must face death penalty. There should be no mercy for such monsters; capital punishment is the only justice," Gohil said.

"In other states with non-BJP governments, whenever such heinous incidents occur, strict action is demanded against the accused by the BJP. But when it happens here, there's complete silence from the BJP," he said. Senior police officer Rajdeep Singh Jhala had said the six-year-old girl's body was found on the premises of her school on September 19.

No lathis, arms in Ram Navami rallies in Bengal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

THE West Bengal Police will not allow weapons to be carried during the Ram Navami rally scheduled next Thursday. Some organisations in the state have been celebrating the festival by taking out processions holding traditional weapons. Only those who have started this trend recently should not be allowed to carry weapons. The police have to do the screening carefully," said chief minister Mamata Banerjee.

Senior officials of the state government said that the panel had sent a directive to all district magistrates to prohibit children and minors from participating in armed rallies during Ram Navami as it would have an adverse impact on their psyche. Anyone defying the order will be punished under the law. Earlier Mamata had accused the RSS and BJP of inciting communal tension. "They are doing so to cause riots. I am sure they would try the same trick during Ram Navami. I do not need to see who is Hindu or Muslim," she said.

In April this year, at least 20 people were injured due to stone pelting and blasts during Ram Navami celebration at Murshidabad in West Bengal.

RG Kar docs threaten to intensify protest if their demands not met

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @ Kolkata

DAYS after partially resuming duties at government hospitals in West Bengal following a 42-day cease-work over the RG Kar rape-murder, junior doctors on Thursday threatened to intensify their protest from Friday if their demands are not fulfilled.

The doctors sent an email to Chief Secretary Manoj Pant reminding him of their unmet demands discussed during their September 18 meeting. In a two-page letter, representatives of the West Bengal Junior Doctors' Forum (WBJDF) said, "We would like to mention that no action has been taken/no order has been passed in regard to some of the important demands placed and agreed upon by both the parties."

They reiterated demands for the formation of a central inquiry committee to address the alleged "threat culture" in all medical colleges across the state. The letter also highlighted the need for individual colleges to establish college-level enquiry committees, which should include undergraduate students and resident doctors to investigate those involved in fostering this environment.

Furthermore, the WBJDF reminded Pant of their demand for the state government to form an inquiry committee against the West Bengal Medical Council (WBMC) and West Bengal Health Recruitment Board (WBHRB) members accused of promoting the threat culture and running health syndicates, insisting this should be done within the next seven working days.

Hours after the doctors sent the mail to the chief secretary, Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee called a meeting of all principals, heads of departments, director of health service and director of medical education. Banerjee said she has dissolved all Rogi Kalyan Samitis in hospitals.

Few takers as 5.5K govt schools have zero student enrollment for Class I

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

THE government's primary education system seems to be having few takers in Madhya Pradesh. In as many as 5,501 schools, zero enrolment of students has been reported in Class I standard.

According to the latest statistics (as on September 13, 2024) pertaining to enrolment of students in Class I in government schools, 5501 schools (which were 7% of the total 78,542 schools having primary sections) reported zero student enrolment for the 2024-25 academic session.

Surprisingly, the Narsinghpur district, which is the home district of state's school education minister Rao Udai Pratap Singh's home district Narsinghpur is among the five top districts which have maximum number of such schools, where zero student enrolment enrollment in Class I has been reported in the new academic session. While tribal dominated Seoni district in Jabalpur region had highest 425 such schools, Satna district of Vindhya region had 303 such schools followed by the school education minister's home district Narsinghpur with 299 such schools, western MP's Khargone district with 287 such schools and another tribal dominated Betul district with 265 such schools.

Further, each of total 19,531 schools in the state reported enrolment of 1-2 students in Class I, while each of total 25,032 schools (32%) reported enrolment of 0-2 students in the same entry level class.

Further, 23,466 or 30% schools (each of them) reported enrolment of 3-5 students in Class I, followed by 18,699 of 23% schools, each of which reported enrolment of 6 to ten students in Class I.

Total 11,345 or just 14% schools across the state (each one of them) reported enrolment of more than 10 students in Class I. Expressing shock over the government statistics, the opposition Congress's state spokesperson Bhupendra Gupta said, "These latest figures expose how the education system in the state has been ruined during the nearly two decades of BJP rule in the state. Still this state government claims that the state is functioning smoothly."

The state's school education minister Rao Udai Pratap Singh, however, claimed that the low student enrolment numbers in Class I in government schools, is due to the fact that government schools don't have provision for nursery classes. Owing to it more little ones are taking admission in private schools and continuing there.

UTTARAKHAND

After talks deadlock, team to visit Joshimath in Oct

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

Decision after locals' outrage

- A meeting between the Joshimath Bachao Sangharsh Samiti and the Additional Secretary of Disaster Management on Wednesday had ended in stalemate, leaving residents of the subsidence-hit town in limbo.
- In the second round of discussions, it was decided that disaster management team will visit Joshimath in October

A high-level disaster management team will visit Joshimath in October to assess the situation after the land submergence and create a tentative Detailed Project Report (DPR) to expedite rehabilitation efforts. Vinod Kumar Suman, Secretary of Uttarakhand's State Disaster Management Authority, has reassured representatives of the Joshimath Bachao Sangharsh Samiti on Thursday that the government will prioritize the concerns of those affected by the natural land submergence disaster.

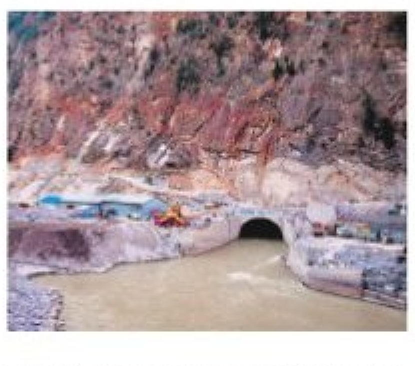
Suman's commitment comes as the state continues to grapple with the aftermath of the disaster, which has had a devastating impact on local communities. A spokesperson for the committee told this daily, the ongoing delays in relief and rehabilitation efforts, as well as the stabilisation of Joshimath, have sparked widespread outrage among the local public.

Convener of Sangharsh Samiti Atul Sati stated, "If the government doesn't start relief and rehabilitation work by October, we will organize a widespread movement with public support, similar to our protests in 2022-23."

Regarding the stabilization work delay, Suman said, "Now, we will prepare a tentative DPR, obtain financial approval, and start work soon after October."

Glacier burst concern over safety of hydro projects

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun



THE hydroelectric projects will not be affected in the event of a glacier lake burst in future. To ensure safety, authorities will conduct thorough assessments of glacier impacts in potential project areas before establishing new hydroelectric projects.

"Before setting up any new hydro project, we will conduct thorough assessments of glacier impacts in the entire region," Dr Sandeep Singhal, Managing Director of Uttarakhand Jal Vidyut Nigam Limited (UJVNL) told this daily.

This move addresses concerns about vulnerability to natural disasters, particularly after the 2013 floods and recent Joshimath land subsidence, where glacier bursts have caused significant damage to hydropower projects.

"We will assess the number of glacier lakes surrounding each project," UJVNL MD Dr Singhal told this daily. "In the event of a burst, we will ensure that the water flows safely through the power project, minimizing damage and maintaining flow."

Dr Singhal added, "Our focus is on identifying and mitigating risks associated with glacier lakes to protect our hydro projects and ensure uninterrupted power supply."

Dr Singhal outlined enhanced safety measures for hydroelectric projects. "We are developing seismic designs for power projects, in collaboration with IIT Roorkee," Dr. Singhal stated.

Putin's N-coercion to pressure Ukraine

MOSCOW

THE Kremlin said Thursday that an updated nuclear doctrine that will allow Moscow to use nuclear weapons against non-nuclear states should be seen as a warning to the West.

Russian President Vladimir Putin on Wednesday announced plans to broaden Russia's rules on the use of its nuclear weaponry, allowing it to unleash a nuclear response in the event of a "massive" air attack.

The proposals would also permit Moscow to respond with nuclear weapons against non-nuclear states, where they were being supported by nuclear powers – a clear reference to Ukraine and its Western backers.

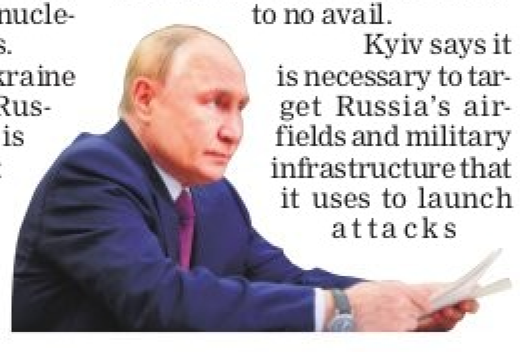
Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said the planned changes "must be considered a specific signal".

"A signal that warns these countries of the consequences if they participate in an attack on our country by various means, not necessarily nuclear," Peskov told reporters.

Without mentioning Ukraine by name, Peskov said Russia's "nuclear deterrence is being adjusted on account of elements of tension that are developing along the perimeter of our borders".

He also said there was "no question" of Russia boosting its nuclear arsenal.

The proposed changes to Russia's nuclear doctrine, which Putin himself has the power to approve, come as Ukraine is seeking permission from Western allies to use long-range precision weaponry to strike targets deep inside Russia - so far to no avail.



Kyiv says it is necessary to target Russia's airfields and military infrastructure that it uses to launch attacks on Ukraine, though the White House is cautious about enabling further escalation.

The West has accused Putin of irresponsible nuclear sabre-rattling throughout the Ukraine conflict, with the Kremlin leader having issued multiple apparent threats about Moscow's willingness to deploy its nuclear weapons.

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken criticised Putin's statement as "totally irresponsible." European Commission spokesman Peter Stano criticized Putin's statements about the nuclear doctrine as "a continuation of the very irresponsible and unacceptable behavior" by the Russian leader. AFP/AP

CALL FOR UN REFORM AT SEC COUNCIL MEET

The city-state called for constraints on the use of veto powers by the UNSC's permanent members, saying that the council is in need of reform to tackle the challenges faced by a world in an "acutely dangerous phase", The Straits Times reported. "All permanent members should focus on the broader goal of delivering international peace and security," said minister Vivian Balakrishnan in his first address to the UNSC. "However, the trend of the increasing exercise of the vetoes suggests we cannot leave this to the P5 (Permanent Five) to voluntarily change their behaviour."

Longest-serving death row inmate acquitted of quadruple murder in Japan

TOKYO: A Japanese court found an 88-year-old former boxer not guilty on Thursday after a retrial for a 1966 quadruple murder, reversing a decision that made him the world's longest-serving death row inmate. Iwao Hakamada's acquittal by the Shizuoka District Court makes him the fifth death row inmate to be found not guilty in a retrial in postwar Japan, where prosecutors have a more than 99% conviction rate. The case could rekindle a debate around abolishing the death penalty in Japan. The court found that evidence was fabricated and planted by investigators and that Hakamada was not the culprit, his lawyer Hideyo Ogawa said. After the ruling and an explanation were read out, his 91-year-old sister Hideko Hakamada walked out of the courthouse with a big smile, welcomed by cheers and two big bouquets of flowers to celebrate the acquittal of her brother after the 58-year legal battle. Israeli strike kills drone commander of Hezbollah

At least 11 killed, 22 others injured in attack in school shelter in Gaza

Destruction in a area targeted overnight by Israeli airstrikes in Lebanon's town of Saksakiyeh on Thursday | AFP

JERUSALEM

THE Israeli military said on Thursday its latest strike on south Beirut killed Mohammed Srur, the head of Hezbollah's drone unit, who a source close to the group had earlier said was the target.

"Following precise intelligence guidance from the Air Force and the Intelligence Division, fighter jets targeted and eliminated (Srur), the commander of Hezbollah's air unit, in Beirut," a military statement said. Nineteen Syrian refugees and a Lebanese national were killed in northeast Lebanon after an Israeli airstrike destroyed a building housing workers, Lebanon's Health Ministry said.

Late Wednesday, the United States, France and other allies jointly called for an "immediate" 21-day ceasefire to allow for negotiations as fears grow that the violent escalation in recent days — following 11 months of cross-border exchange of fire — could grow into an all-out war.

The United Nations says over 90,000 people have been displaced by five days of Israeli strikes on Lebanon, bringing the total to 200,000 people who have been displaced in Lebanon since Gaza war began.

Hezbollah said it targeted the northern Israeli town of Safed with dozens of rockets in response to Israeli attacks on Lebanon.

"Defending Lebanon and its people, and in response to the barbaric Israeli" attacks on "cities, villages and civilians" in Lebanon, Hezbollah fighters targeted Safed "with 80 rockets", a statement said.

Three ministers from Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's governing coalition on Thursday rejected a US-led proposal for a Lebanon ceasefire and demanded that the fight against Hezbollah go on.

Israel's far-right Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich, opposed the ceasefire proposal.

"The campaign in the north should end with a single result: crushing Hezbollah and elimination of its ability to harm the residents of the north," Smotrich said.

"The enemy must not be given time to recover from the heavy blows it has suffered and reorganise itself to continue the war after 21 days," he said.

Meanwhile, an Israeli airstrike hit a school sheltering thousands of displaced Palestinians in northern Gaza on Thursday, killing at least 11 people and wounding 22, including women and children, the territory's Health Ministry said. AFP/AP

TRUMP RAPS UKRAINE REFUSAL FOR TRUCE

WASHINGTON

FORMER President Donald Trump described Ukraine in bleak and mournful terms on Wednesday, referring to its people as 'dead' and the country itself as 'demolished", and further raising questions about how much the former president would be willing if elected again to concede in a negotiation over the country's future.

Trump argued Ukraine should have made concessions to Russian President Vladimir Putin in the months before Russia's February 2022 attack, declaring that even 'the worst deal would've been better than what we have now".

Trump, who has long been critical of US aid to Ukraine, frequently claims that Russia never would have invaded if he was president and that he would put an end to the war if he returned to the White House. But rarely has he discussed the conflict in such detail.

His remarks, at a North Carolina event billed as an economic speech, come on the heels of a debate this month in which he pointedly refused to say whether he wanted Ukraine to win the war. On Tuesday, Trump touted the prowess of Russia and its predecessor Soviet Union, saying that wars are 'what they do'.

Zelenskyy, who is visiting the US this week to attend the UN General Assembly, told The New Yorker that Vance was "too radical" for proposing that Ukraine surrender territories under Russian control and that Trump "doesn't really know how to stop the war even if he might think he knows how."

Trump painted Ukraine as a country in ruins outside its capital, Kyiv, short on soldiers and losing population to war deaths and neighboring countries. He questioned whether the country has any bargaining chips left to negotiate an end to the war.

"Any deal — the worst deal — would've been better than what we have now," Trump said. "What deal can we make? It's demolished," he added. AP

Taliban says no gender discrimination

Kabul: The Taliban said on Thursday it was absurd to accuse them of gender discrimination and other human rights violations, as four countries vow to hold Afghanistan's rulers accountable under international law for their treatment of women and girls. Australia, Canada, Germany and the Netherlands are set to start legal proceedings against the Taliban for violating a UN convention on women, to which Afghanistan is a party.

NY mayor charged for bribery, seeking illegal funds from foreigners

NEW YORK

NEW YORK City Mayor Eric Adams was indicted Thursday on charges that he took illegal campaign contributions and bribes from foreign nationals in exchange for favours that included helping Turkish officials get fire safety approvals for a new diplomatic building in the city.

Adams, a former police officer, faces conspiracy, wire fraud and bribery charges in a five-count indictment that describes a decade-long trail of crimes. The US attorney's office in Manhattan alleges in the indictment that Adams "not only accepted, but sought illegal campaign contributions" to his mayoral campaign.

A senior official in the Turkish diplomatic establishment "facilitated many straw donations" to Adams and arranged for Adams and his companions to receive free or discounted travel on Turkey's national airline to destinations including France, China, Sri Lanka, India, Hungary, and Turkey, the indictment alleges.

Adams "compounded his gains" from the illegal campaign contributions by gaming the city's matching funds programme, which provides a generous match for small dollar donations. His campaign received more than $10,000 in matching funds as a result of the false certifications, according to the indictment.

Adams allegedly "solicited and demanded" bribes, including free and heavily discounted luxury travel benefits from a Turkish official, the indictment alleges, noting that the official was seeking Adams' help pertaining to regulations of the Turkish consulate in Manhattan.

Undersea CO2 vault to fight climate change opens

OYGARDEN

NORWAY inaugurated on Thursday the gateway to a massive undersea vault for carbon dioxide, a crucial step before opening what its operator calls the first commercial service offering CO_2 transport and storage. The Northern Lights project plans to take CO_2 emissions captured at factory smokestacks in Europe and inject them into geological reservoirs under the seabed. The aim is to prevent the emissions from being released into the atmosphere, and thereby help halt climate change. On the island of Oygarden, a key milestone was marked on Thursday with the inauguration of a terminal built on the shores of the North Sea, its 12 shiny storage tanks rising up against the sky. A jumble of pipes snake around the tanks, one of them plunging into the North Sea. It is here that the liquified CO_2 will be transported by boat. From the tanks, it will travel through a 110-kilometre pipeline before being injected into the seabed, at a depth of around 2.6 kilometres, for permanent storage.

The facility, a joint venture grouping oil giants Equinor of Norway, Anglo-Dutch Shell and TotalEnergies of France, is expected to bury its first CO_2 deliveries in 2025. It will have an initial capacity of 1.5 million tonnes of CO2 per year, before being ramped up to five million tonnes in a second phase if there is enough demand. "Northern Lights is really a demonstration project that carbon capture and storage is a technically feasible solution," managing director Tim Heijn said. It was one tool that could be used to combat climate change, he added. AFP

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIAN equity market benchmarks have rallied up to more than 20% so far this calendar year, thereby eclipsing the gain made in the full calendar year 2023 with 3 months to spare. Showing no signs of any fatigue and discarding expensive valuation concerns, the benchmark continues to hit new peaks each passing session.

The local equities again surged to new all-time highs on Thursday. The BSE Sensex closed at a record 85,836.12, up 666.25 points or 0.78%, while the Nifty 50 index gained 211.90 points or 0.81% to end at 26,216.05. So far in CY24, the Sensex has surged 18.77% while the Nifty50 has rallied 20.58%. Investors have minted more than ₹107 lakh crore as the market capitalization of all BSE-listed firms now stands at ₹47,834,255 crore.

The superstars of the Nifty pack in 2024 have been two home-grown auto companies: Mahindra & Mahindra and Bajaj Auto. The two firms have rallied 86% and 88% respectively so far this year. The other standouts are Bharti Airtel (up 76%) and Shriram Finance (up 77%). The two heavyweights of Nifty 50- HDFC Bank (up 5%) and Reliance Industries Ltd (up 16%) – are yet to beat the benchmarks.

V K Vijayakumar, Chief Investment Strategist at Geojit Financial Services said that there are mainly three reasons for this surge. One, globally stock markets are bullish. S&P 500 is up by 20% so far this year. Two, there is fundamental support to the rally from high GDP growth and good corporate earnings. Three, the prime mover of the market is the gush of domestic liquidity flowing into the markets. He added that the market continues to be resilient and if the domestic liquidity flows are sustained, the rally can take the Nifty to the 27000 level by the end of 2024.

Arindam Ghosh Co-founder of Alphaniti Investment Advisors said the market rally has been primarily driven by an unprecedented surge in liquidity from domestic investors - both institutional and retail. "What we are witnessing is perhaps the beginning of unlocking of money from physical and hard asset classes like Real estate and gold, on the back of strong economic fundamentals, earnings growth, robust capital market and regulatory framework," added Ghosh.

This increased liquidity from retail investors, according to many experts, has managed to absorb concerns caused by FII selling. The latest Economic Survey had highlighted that over 9.5 crore retail investors directly own nearly 10% of the stock market through as many as 2,500 listed companies, translating into ₹36 lakh crore worth of shareholder wealth as of March 2024. This is over and above the ₹28 lakh crore as indirect ownership of listed companies through mutual funds.

Sebi eases reporting norms for trading, clearing members

BEN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

MARKET watchdog Sebi has done away with as many as 90% of the reporting requirements for market makers like trading members, clearing members, and depository participants.

Issuing the new guidelines under what is calls the unified distiller file formats (UDiFF), Sebi on Thursday said the move is to promote standardised reporting and will help savings to the tune of over ₹200 crore over the next five years, as much as 90% of reporting requirements for brokers/ members, lower cost of entry for new fintechs, are done away with.

Currently market makers are required to file multiple reports daily for processing various types of transactions, with their respective market infrastructure institutions (MIIs) such as exchanges, clearing corporations, and depositories. Previously, these report formats were proprietary to each MII, resulting in more than 200 formats being filed by members daily for processing various types of transactions.

As Sebi has harmonised, rationalised, and standardised the reporting norms the number of total formats have been reduced from over 200 to 23 now. The new standardised file formats, termed UDiFF will enhance efficiency, productivity, and interoperability at reduced costs the statement said.

The statement said the UDiFF implementation is being done in a phased manner. To facilitate a smooth transition for members and the markets, there was a parallel run of the existing system for nearly two quarters, and the old file formats were phased out in a staggered manner.

As a result of the massive reduction in reporting formats the members are estimated to save over ₹200 crore over the next five years owing to lower operational expenses.

SpiceJet starts clearing salaries of employees

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DAYS after raising ₹3,000 crore through a Qualified Institutional Placement (QIP), budget carrier SpiceJet has started crediting the pending salaries of its employees for the months of June, July and August.

"SpiceJet has cleared all pending salary dues of employees. Salaries of July and August of all employees and those who hadn't received June salaries were disbursed last evening," said a source privy to the development. An employee working with the airline also confirmed receiving his pending salary.

The source said that the company will soon clear all the other dues related to the Provident Fund and TDS. SpiceJet has not paid statutory dues amounting to ₹427 crore between March 2020 and August 2024. These statutory dues include ₹219.8 crore in tax deducted at source (TDS), ₹71.33 crore in goods and services tax (GST), and ₹135.47 crore towards provident fund (PF) contribution. In its QIP document, SpiceJet said it owed ₹118.9 crore to its employees as of September 15, 2024, in addition to the statutory dues. The airline would also receive an additional ₹736 crore from the previous funding round.

Govt to borrow ₹6.61L cr in H2, maintains target

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Centre has retained its borrowing target for the current financial year as it announced its ₹6.61 lakh crore borrowing plan for the second half of the financial year. The government borrowed ₹7.4 lakh crore in the first half out of the gross market borrowing of ₹14.01 lakh crore estimated for 2024-25.

As per the Centre, out of Gross Market borrowing of ₹14.01 lakh crore budgeted for 2024-25, ₹6.61 lakh crore (47.2%) is planned to be borrowed in second half of the year through issuance of dated securities, including ₹20,000 crore of Sovereign Green Bonds. The government said it will continue to reserve the right to exercise greenshoe option to retain an additional subscription of up to ₹2,000 crore against each of the securities indicated in the auction notifications.

In the third quarter of FY25, weekly borrowing via issuance of Treasury Bills is projected to reach ₹19,000 crore over a span of 13 weeks. This will include ₹7,000 crore from 91-day dated Treasury Bills (DTBs), ₹6,000 crore from 182-day DTBs, and ₹6,000 crore from 364-day DTBs. To manage temporary discrepancies in government accounts, the Reserve Bank of India has set the Ways and Means Advances (WMA) limit for the second half of FY 2024-25 at ₹50,000 crore. Of the total estimated gross market borrowing of ₹14.01 lakh crore for 2024-25, ₹7.4 lakh crore, accounting for 52.8%, has already been raised in the first half of the fiscal year. It is to be noted that the gross borrowing for FY25 is lower than last year's gross borrowing estimate of ₹15.43 lakh crore, which was the highest ever.

According to Aditi Nayar, chief economist & head - Research and Outreach at ICRA Ltd, while the Rs 6.61 lakh crore borrowing in second half of the year is only marginally higher than year-ago levels, a sharp decline in redemptions would entail a sharp 32% YoY expansion in the net borrowings to ₹ 6.0 trillion in the second half of the fiscal.

Swiggy to raise ₹3,750 cr through public offer

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FOOD tech firm Swiggy said on Thursday it aims to raise ₹3,750 core ($449 million) in its initial public offering (IPO). Existing shareholders such as Accel India and Tencent Europe will sell about 185.3 million shares, Swiggy said in its draft prospectus.

Swiggy's plan to go public comes at a time when investors are showing confidence in new age companies. Shares of Swiggy's rival Zomato have gained more than 184% in the last one year.

Backed by Japan's SoftBank investment major Prosus, Swiggy competed against Zomato in India's fast growing online restaurant and food delivery market. India's food delivery market is estimated to grow to Rs 2 lakh crore by 2030, as per industry estimates. Swiggy and Zomato together commanding over 90% of this market.

Prosus with 32% stake is among the leading stakeholder in the company. SoftBank, Accel, Elevation Capital, DST Global, Norwest, Tencent, Qatar Investment Authority (QIA) and Singapore's GIC are other shareholders in Swiggy.

Asset quality problems to lift MFIs credit cost

BEN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

RISING credit cost stemming from asset quality challenges that have begun to surface since many months now will crimp the profitability of microfinance institutions due to the higher credit cost which will halve their return on managed assets to 2-2.5% this fiscal from a high of 4% last fiscal.

Industry wide credit cost is expected to increase to 3.5% in fiscal 2025 from 2% earlier according to Crisil. That said, risk-based pricing adopted by MFIs after the removal of interest margin cap and stronger balance sheets will limit the decline in profitability and support their credit profiles, says report based on an analysis of MFIs accounting for 85% of the industry assets under management.

Delinquencies in the early buckets - 0+ and 30+ dpd (days past due) - increased by around 110 bps and 55 bps, respectively, during the first quarter of fiscal 2025 from the March quarter.

> Blended impact of these factors resulted in average monthly collection efficiency dropping to 96% during first quarter and further to 94% so far in second quarter, from an average of 98% last fiscal
>
> Malvika Bhotika, director at Crisil

As per Malvika Bhotika, a director with the agency, four factors have impacted the portfolio quality of MFIs. Firstly, lending to over-leveraged borrowers; secondly, debt-waiver campaigns and thirdly, continued high attrition of field-staff and lastly, ground-level operational challenges given elections and intense heat wave. "The blended impact of these factors resulted in average monthly collection efficiency dropping to 96% during Q1 and to 94% so far in Q2, from an average of 98% last fiscal," she said.

While the delinquencies have increased across most states, northern region has been the most affected. Punjab and Haryana (affected by debt waiver issues) had 0+ dpd of 32% and 8.5%, respectively. These states accounted for only 2.5% of the industry AUM as of June 2024. Among the top five states in terms of AUM, Tamil Nadu has seen the sharpest increase with 0+ dpd spiking by nearly 130 bps quarter on-quarter, while Uttar Pradesh saw 120 bps rise. Among the states outside the top five, Rajasthan, Odisha and Kerala saw a rise of 190-250 bps. To mitigate the asset quality challenges, the self-regulatory organisations, Microfinance Institutions Network (MFIN) and Sa-dhan, came up with two key guardrails in July 2024–limiting the number of MFIs lending to any borrower to four and capping loan limit to ₹2 lakh per borrower to reduce over-leveraging.

OMCs can reduce petrol, diesel prices by ₹2-3: ICRA

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

OIL marketing companies (OMCs) could reduce petrol and diesel prices by ₹2-3 per litre if the international crude prices remain stable, according to a report by ICRA. The rating agency noted that the recent decline in crude oil prices has improved margins on retail auto fuels, allowing state-owned companies to consider price cuts.

The average price of India's crude oil imports fell to $74 per barrel in September, down from $83-84 per barrel in March, when petrol and diesel prices were last reduced by ₹2 per litre.

"ICRA estimates that the OMCs' net realisation was higher by ₹15 per litre for petrol and ₹12 a litre for diesel vis-a-vis international product prices in September 2024 (till September 17). The retail selling price (RSPs) of these fuels have been unchanged since March 2024 (Rs 2/litre was reduced on petrol and diesel on March 15, 2024) and there appears to be headroom for their downward revision by ₹2-3 per litre, if crude prices remain stable," said Girishkumar Kadam, Senior Vice President and Group Head, Corporate Ratings, ICRA.

The last revision in fuel prices took place in March, with a ₹2 per litre cut for both petrol and diesel. Crude prices have seen a significant drop in recent months, primarily due to weak global economic growth and high US production.

Byju's insolvency case: SC halts creditors meeting

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE Supreme Court on Thursday reserved its verdict and directed the Insolvency Resolution Professional (IRP) of edtech firm Byju's to maintain status quo and not hold any meeting of the Committee of Creditors. This means the company's bankruptcy resolution proceedings will be delayed as the committee of creditors planned to meet on Thursday.

Byju's US-based creditor Glas Trust Company had filed an appeal against the judgment of the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) that allowed the edtech firm to pay Rs 158 crore settlement to the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI).

On Wednesday, the SC questioned NCLAT's decision to approve the settlement between Byju's and BCCI.

A bench led by the Chief Justice heard the application filed by Glas Trust against Byju's resolution professional, Pankaj Srivastava, for removing the US lender from the committee of creditors. Earlier, the steering committee of the ad hoc group of term loan lenders under the $1.5 billion term loan guaranteed by Think & Learn Pvt Ltd, said in a statement, "Pankaj Srivastava's actions are unprecedented and entirely illegitimate."

On August 14, 2024, Pankaj resumed office as the interim resolution professional of Think & Learn and formed the committee of creditors on August 21.

Another IOA EC meeting ends in chaos as standoff continues

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

UNFORTUNATELY, it's back to square one — another deadlock. The Indian Olympic Association is in a mess. The IOA emergency Executive Committee meeting that could have brought some solace or some kind of solution to the ongoing tussle between the EC members and the IOA president ended in another stalemate. The meeting had a one-point agenda – ratification of Chief Executive Officer's appointment after negotiating salary – but the EC members wanted to add 14 more points for discussion during the meeting.

The way things stand, perhaps, the Supreme Court should take note of this standoff. The SC had said that "no other court will entertain any petition relating to the amendment of the constitution of the IOA or to the election to the Executive Committee of the IOA. All objections be submitted by any person or party before this court alone."

It is understood that IOA president PT Usha did not want the points to be discussed on Thursday and wanted the appointment of the CEO passed by the members. According to minutes in circulation and signed by ten EC members, the meeting was attended by Jerome Poivey, the Head of Institutional Relations and Governance, NOC Relations Department International Olympic Committee, who was part of the meeting as special guest. What seemed even more bewildering is that both the factions instead of resolving the issues, stood their ground. The EC members wanted to discuss the 14 points that included the issue of selection and nomination of Sportspersons of Outstanding Merit (SOMs), withdrawal of "threat" letters by the president, but the IOA president, who called the meeting, did not allow it. It is understood that the EC members were not happy that their points were not allowed to be discussed. However, the validity of the minutes was being questioned because it was not signed by the IOA president, who convened the meeting. According to the minutes in circulation, which did not have Usha's signature, the EC has decided to bring Kalyan Chaubey, the joint secretary, back as acting-CEO. He was ineligible after he completed two months in office last time. The IOC had threatened action against the IOA until the CEO was appointed and even deferred the IOC Session in Mumbai. Usha, apparently, was not allowed to make her opening address. The appointment of CEO Raghuram Iyer was made on January 15 after the January 5 EC meeting where his name was apparently discussed. The EC later said that they objected to the appointment of the CEO and had not acknowledged his presence in the IOA. On the other hand, the CEO had been attending meetings with the sports ministry, the SAI and the IOC. What seems interesting is that the sports ministry and the SAI that seemed to be quite active during the IOA elections two years ago seemed to have gone silent. This has seriously affected India's potential bid process for the 2036 Olympics.

Cloud over Green Park & combination

With two strips prepared, conditions could determine whether Kuldeep will play at his home ground or not

FIROZ MIRZA @Kanpur

India captain Rohit Sharma and head coach Gautam Gambhir take a look at the pitcjh in Kanpur | PTI

WILL it be strip five or six? That was the million dollar question when representatives from both India and Bangladesh inspected the pitches on the eve of the second Test here at the Green Park Stadium on Thursday.

With the Uttar Pradesh Cricket Association preparing two pitches with black soil out of available nine, India skipper Rohit Sharma and head coach Gautam Gambhir took a close look at them. For Bangladesh, head coach Chandika Hathurusinghe was the first to cast his doubts after he saw the two prepared pitches on Wednesday.

Uncertainty surrounding the surface meant the teams remained indecisive in regards to their playing XI. It will be interesting to see if the sides go ahead with the playing XI that featured in the Chennai Test or include an extra spinner given the use of black soil. Both teams had played three seamers and two spinners in the first Test. "To be honest, I don't know which surface we are going to play on yet. Both the pitches look pretty good. Kanpur is often known to have good pitches. I am not sure about the bounce yet," Abhishek Nayar, India's assistant coach, said.

Even before the teams reached the city, the spotlight was on local lad Kuldeep Yadav, who didn't feature in the first Test. With the black soil not offering the same bounce as the red soil, like the one in Chennai, many were anticipating the left-arm wristspinner to play at his home ground for the first time.

But it remains to be seen if that will be the case come Friday. Axar Patel is another spin option for Rohit and Co if they wish to go ahead with three spinners.

Moreover, the weather forecast also added to the confusion with chances of rain in the opening three days. It also rained on Thursday with Najmul Hossain Shanto-led Bangladesh side forced to end their nets session in just half-an-hour. "With the conditions and the forecast, it is going to be interesting, when we turn up in the morning, how the conditions are. A lot will depend on that because as you know in Test wicket, conditions can be a huge factor in how the pitch plays. It is too early for us to judge and decide or have any sort of thought process on the pitch or the conditions. But we are hoping we come in tomorrow (Friday) to a sunny day and not an overcast Kanpur," said Nayar.

Nayar also spoke about KL Rahul, who has been averaging below-par in Tests so far. The Karnataka batter has 2901 runs from 51 matches with an average of 34.12. "Sometimes it is just direction and I feel KL is someone who understands his game very well. In South Africa, he played tremendous knocks. We are very hopeful... the kind of combination that Gautam and I have had with him that hopefully, we can have a turnaround in KL as well. These things sometimes take time. But I feel the way he is batting, even in the last game, I know we did not end up giving him much of a shot in the second innings. And I am pretty sure going forward you will see the expectations and the performances that you have from him."

In the larger scheme of things, India have taken 1-0 lead and a win here will only strengthen their prospects of qualifying for the World Test Championship final.

Kanpur game may be Shakib's last Test match

FIROZ MIRZA @Kanpur

ONE look at his cricketing profile and it can be known clearly how valuable he has been as a cricketer. Number of prominent teams he has played for, including franchise leagues, goes up to 23. However, his on-field brilliance has often been marred by not-so-sporting off the field behaviour. Be it multiple bans he has served, getting a batter timed-out or clashes with umpires, former Bangladesh captain Shakib Al Hasan has seen it all in his 17 years of international career.

But as the saying goes, 'every good thing (in this case, the bad ones as well) comes to an end'. Shakib, who is in the twilight of his career, has on Thursday taken a step towards retirement from the longest format here in Kanpur when he surprised almost everyone with a decision to quit Test cricket.

While it's his wish to bid adieu to the purest form of the game in his country during the South Africa series next month. The series is still tentative and if the visitors were not given security clearance by their government, the Kanpur Test starting on Friday would be Shakib's last in the format. "I have informed the Bangladesh Cricket Board about my wish to end my Test career in Mirpur, and they've agreed in principle. They are also trying to arrange everything, so that I can play my last Test at home feeling safe. They have assured me that they will work in tandem with all the authorities and let me know their decision soon so that I can not only play freely but also can leave the country safely, post the series," Shakib said on the eve of second Test.

Once a superstar in his country, his reputation took a hit during the recent unrest in Bangladesh. A lawmaker from the ruling Awami League Party, against whom the protests were launched, Shakib was even charged of murder. He soon left the country even as the Sheikh Hasina-led government was toppled and every institution including the BCB saw wholesale changes. What made the matter worse for him is his silence on the protest.

The political plunge seemed to have spelled doom for the talented cricketer, who affirmed that it's high time to bring in new talents. "This is the right time to bring in new players. It's the same vision for T20Is. I have spoken to the chief selector and the BCB president and we all felt that this was the time to move on and allow new players to come up the ranks."

He, however, said that he will continue to play in T20 leagues and may return to the national fold if need arises. "But for now, you can say that I am moving on from both the formats. In case, I perform well in the T20 leagues and the BCB feels that they need me in the team for a certain time, then we can consider. But for now, this is it. It's a unanimous decision and I think I have played my last match in T20Is during the last game of the World Cup earlier this year," Shakib said.

POINTS TO PONDER

WITH THE SECOND TEST BETWEEN INDIA AND BANGLADESH BEGINNING ON FRIDAY, A LOOK...

PACE OR SPIN?

Although it is established that the black soil surface could be on the slower side with spinners coming into play, the forecast has been such that teams could stick with three pacers. India have retained Jasprit Bumrah, but will be interesting to see if Akash Deep keeps his place or Kuldeep comes in.

WEATHER WATCH

The first three days of the match are expected to be cloudy with predictions for thunderstorm on occasion. While the city received some rain on Thursday, the same could happen on Friday morning with intermittent thunderstorms during the day.

Inside story of how all-rounder revealed plans on India arrival

FIROZ MIRZA @Kanpur

FORMER Bangladesh captain Shakib Al Hasan on Thursday announced that the Mirpur Test against visiting South Africa will be his last in the format if he is assured of his safety in the country and also a safe exit after the match.

The decision might have come on the eve of Bangladesh's second Test against hosts India here in Kanpur, Uttar Pradesh but the foundation for it was laid ahead of the first match of the series in Chennai as soon as Shakib joined the team.The batting all-rounder bared his heart to teammates, support staff and selector Hannan Sarkar, who is travelling with the team. "Shakib, who joined the squad later, shared his thoughts with us on arrival. We spoke extensively to him on the issue and later apprised the Bangladesh Cricket Board (BCB) of his decision," Sarkar told this daily.

The first Test in Chennai started on September 19. The visitors lost the match by 280 runs on the fourth day. Given the situation, the discussion must be on for more than a week following which Shakib made his decision public on Thursday.

Sarkar, a former Bangladesh player, held Shakib one of the finest cricketers the country has ever produced and said it must not have been easy to walk away from Test cricket. "You can understand how many times we all must have discussed this thing. For more than a week, this was the topic of discussions among us. The BCB also got involved late on. After several rounds of discussions, it was decided to respect the decision of Shakib and let him choose the way he wants to finish his Test career," Sarkar added.

Explaining the reasons given by Shakib behind his decision, Sarkar said, "He said the time is apt for him to make way for youngsters. The announcement came after an intense discussion. It was a well-thought decision and he has kept every stakeholder in the loop. Obviously, when a player of his stature makes such an announcement, a lot of talks get started but Shakib was very clear what he has to do before the Chennai Test and made a formal announcement once everyone was on the same page."

Sarkar, however, said Shakib has just decided not to play Twenty20 Internationals for some time unlike popular perception and will be available if the BCB needs him. "He will continue playing in various T20 leagues across the globe. He wanted a break from T20Is but will make himself available if the country needs him during the 2026 T20 World Cup. As far as One-Day Internationals are concerned, he wishes to continue in the format at least till the 2025 Champions Trophy. So one can safely assume that at the moment, he has decided to quit the longest format of the game,"

Sarkar, also made it clear that Shakib at the moment has no plans to serve Bangladesh cricket. "Given his desire to play in the T20 leagues, he will hardly get any time to serve Bangladesh cricket. Maybe in future, he can think about that but for now, he will remain an active cricketer, albeit for various franchises."

After Bangladesh's historic win in Pakistan, Shakib flew to England to represent Surrey in the red-ball cricket even as his teammates returned to the country to prepare for the India series. He shone for his County team against Somerset but could not carry forward that success in the first Test against India where he went wicketless. His contribution with the bat was modest with him scoring 32 and 25 in the two innings.

Fanai stars in Mohammeden win against Chennaiyin FC

RIDING on Lalremsanga Fanai's goal in the 39th minute Mohammedan Sporting Club defeated hosts Chennaiyin FC 1-0 and secured their first win in the Indian Super League at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium here on Thursday.

The visitors could have scored one more goal, but Cesar Lobi Manzoki muffed a penalty in the fourth minute of stoppage time. Chennaiyin FC began their home game with lot of fan fare. CFC coach Owen Coyle approach to the Thursday's game was to carry forward the momentum from the Odisha game. He fielded an almost unchanged lineup from the side that faced Odisha 12 days ago, with the sole alteration being Ankit Mukherjee starting at left-back. About half an hour into the game, Alexis Gomez of Mohammedan managed to hit the left post with a left footed shot from the left side of the box.

Focus on Sindhu's positioning & movement on court: Sridhar

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

SINCE the beginning of the month, Anup Sridhar has helped put the basics in place for PV Sindhu's comeback to the circuit after a below-par Paris Games. After Sindhu's camp approached Sridhar post the Olympics last month, Sridhar flew out to Hyderabad.

Almost a month later, the 41-year-old has 'a fair understanding of what works best for her'. "I met with Sindhu and her team (after the Olympics)," he tells this daily from his current base at the Gachibowli Stadium. "I initially wanted to understand just where she's at, how she's feeling physically and all of that. She's feeling very fit, she doesn't have any pain and no knee issues. She also spoke about how fiercely motivated she is to make it work. It's very impressive to see somebody who has achieved so much still has so much hunger and drive."

To make it work, Sridhar, who had a short-term assignment with Lakshya Sen earlier, has been putting the two-time Games medallist through her paces. While there has been some on-court work on a daily basis, they have focussed on building endurance and ensuring she's fit, healthy and safe.

"We have been experimenting with different kinds of schedules and gathering data on what's best. I have a fair idea of what works well for her. We meet twice a day, we are doing some running on the ground as well. We have been training every day. Apart from that, catching up on her matches and taking notes."

While the 2006 Commonwealth Games bronze medallist is not at liberty to discuss all the things they are doing, he's fairly intimate with two drills they are paying special attention to. One, to get her into position in the back of the court for her to essay her all familiar power game. "The obvious things that are really strong in her game are her attacks," Sridhar says. "When she's in position at the back of the court, she's very dangerous to any opponent. But that's the key, she has to be in position. Even in the match she lost in Paris (He Bingjiao), she was a bit late at the back of the court, especially on the forehand. She got caught out a bit in terms of her position. This is something we have on our mind and we are working on it."

The other specific drill they have worked on is her movement from the net to retrieve a drop shot to being in position at the back. "Between footwork and multi-shuttle routines, the main focus has been on one deep lunge in the front where you block a shuttle... like, say, for example, when an opponent plays a good sharp drop, and then a quick movement back, either on the forehand or the backhand side. We have done a fair amount of it."

The understandable focus on physicality will taper off from Wednesday because of the upcoming European swing (Finland and Denmark). Post those two events, they will have a conversation to see if they want to continue this association.

While Sridhar is excited and looking forward to the opener at the Arctic Open, he's urging caution in terms of expectations. "We are not going to show a miraculous sort of improvement but I can tell there is an improvement for sure."

For so long, Sindhu had an extremely high floor and the highest of ceilings. The battle is on as the 29-year-old aims to rediscover her ceiling from a low floor.
